Talks Begun On Algerian Peace Effort

Bourguiba Confers With DeGaulle On Terminating Revolt

PARIS (AP) — Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba and French President Charles de Gaulle today began critical talks aimed at setting the scene for peaceful settlement of the Algerian rebellion.

The two went into a closed door conference immediately after Bourguiba arrived at De Gaulle's secluded chateau in Rambouillet outside Paris.

Bourguiba drove from Orly Airport in 45 minutes flanked by a motorcycle escort as police helicopters whirred overhead.

Tough security precautions barred everyone but government officials and accredited newsmen from the area around the chateau.

The Tunisian president who calls the rebels his brothers and the French his friends, flew in from Zurich for the climactic talks.

Thousands of police and special gendarmes guarded Orly Field and the 30-mile route to Rambouillet. The road was closed to all traffic an hour before Bourguiba's scheduled passage.

De Gaulle evidently was taking no chances that extremists opposed to any peace negotiations might mar the Bourguiba visit.

Full military honors were rendered Bourguiba as he stepped from his plane on his first visit to France since he negotiated independence in 1955. The greeting party was headed by French Premier Michel Debre.

Bourguiba and De Gaulle are scheduled for day-long private meetings. Later Debre, Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, Tunisian Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs Dr. Sadok Mokkadem and others will be called in for a formal round-table discussion.

Whether any communique will be issued is questionable. The negotiations are viewed as too delicate for either man to wish much publicity.

Before bringing the French and the rebels face-to-face at a peace table, some highly complicated questions must be cleared up.

Although the rebels have accepted in principle De Gaulle's proposal of self-determination for Algeria, they demand negotiations on how this will be applied. De Gaulle has previously refused to talk until the rebls lay down their arms, although it is now generally recognized that he is ready to weaken on this score.

It will be Bourguiba's task to work out with De Gaulle some formula which will allow face-saving on all sides.

The rebel government-in-exile in Tunis, previously cool to the Bourguiba-De Gaulle meeting, has now given Bourguiba its full backing. On the eve of the sessions, rebel sources appeared optimistic that now was the time when the war could finally be brought to a halt.

A NATIONWIDE MANHUNT was launched Sunday following the discovery of the body of Edith Kiecorius, 4, of Brooklyn, missing for four days, in a shabby tenement a few blocks from her uncle's mid-Manhattan home, where she was visiting. She is shown above with a brother, Albin, in a family photograph. (UPI Telephoto)

Hunt Spurred Over U.S. For Child's Killer

Girl, 4, Discovered Beaten And Slain In House At New York

NEW YORK (AP)—The search for pretty little Edith (Googie) Kiecorius is over.

Another has taken its place—a nationwide manhunt for the murderer of the 4-year-old girl.

Edith's half-clad, bruised body was found Sunday in a shabby rooming house only hours after her widowed mother had prayerfully insisted, "No one can hurt such a beautiful child."

A medical examiner said Edith apparently had been beaten to death but an autopsy was ordered to determine the exact cause. The girl was sexually assaulted. The examiner approximated the time of death as last Wednesday—the day the child disappeared from in front of her uncle's home just two blocks away.

Accompanying the nationwide alarm was a description of the toothless, middle-aged man who rented the room Feb. 17 and was last seen an hour before the child vanished. Police said the man registered at the drab West Side rooming house under the name Fred Thompson. He was described as about 50 to 55 years old, 5 feet, 3 inches tall and weighing 140 to 150 pounds.

Job Creating Seen Nation's Top Problem

Goldberg Estimates 13 Million Jobs Due In Country By 1971

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy's top labor adviser says finding jobs for 26 million entrants in the work force during the next decade is the nation's No. 1 domestic problem.

Arthur J. Goldberg, secretary of labor, gave that figure in addressing a banquet given in his honor Sunday night by AFL—CIO union officials whom he formerly served as chief counsel.

Aides of Goldberg explained that while jobs must be found for 26 million workers in the next 10 years, vacancies for about half that number will open up due to death and retirement among present workers. Thus, they said, an estimated 13 million additional jobs are needed.

Goldberg said that widespread unemployment and dwindling job opportunities are high on the list of "unfinished business inherited by the present administration."

"All the things that have been swept under the rug during the past eight years are rapidly coming to light," he said.

Goldberg agreed with George Meany, AFL-CIO president, that finding jobs for the rapidly increasing work force and for workers displaced by new production techniques is a problem of major proportions.

Goldberg was due to confer today at a closed session of the AFL-CIO Executive Council.

The labor secretary told newsmen on his arrival here that Congress is speeding up its procedure to push Kennedy's proposals ahead. He said he hoped Kennedy's first major goal will pass the House this week—a proposal for $1 billion extra unemployment compensation aid.

3rd Man Held In Radio Theft

Suspect Files Denial On Chester Charges

An Aliquippa man charged with the theft of a radio from Wycoff's television store in Chester has been bound over to the April term of the Hancock County Grand Jury.

Charles Adamson, 19, pleaded innocent at a hearing Saturday afternoon before Squire Eugene Allison. Unable to furnish a bond of $2,000, Adamson was returned to the County Jail at New Cumberland.

Cleveland Mitchell of Aliquippa, also wanted on a grand larceny charge for theft of the radio, was arrested Saturday in Aliquippa. He is being held for Chester authorities. Police Chief Harold Davis said West Virginia will extradiate him if he refuses to return.

A third youth, a juvenile from Aliquippa, was released in the custody of his parents.

Although Adamson was picked up Friday afternoon by East Liverpool police and had the radio, it is alleged that Mitchell took it.

All three entered the store Friday afternoon. After they left, the $50 transistor radio was discovered missing. Davis arrested the juvenile shortly afterwards and Adamson was picked up on the Pennsylvania Ave. "'Hill Rd." Mitchell escaped, apparently in a two-tone green car.

Bar Operator Faces Charge In Card Game

Hancock County sheriff's deputies Sunday night arrested the alleged owner of the Cactus Bar on a warrant signed by an East Liverpool man who charged he lost money in a poker game in the Chester area tavern Friday.

Authorities said Kenneth Ross, for whom they gave no city address, obtained a warrant through Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland, accusing William Watson, 44, of Chester as the operator of a poker game in which he lost an undetermined amount of cash.

While serving the warrant for Watson's arrest last night about 9:30, deputies spotted a quantity of alcoholic liquor in the tavern and arrested the licensee.

Robert Reckner, doing business as the Cocoa Club, known as the Cactus Bar, was arrested on a charge of possession of alcoholic beverages on licensed premises, authorities said.

The sheriff's office was unable to give further details of the alleged poker game in which Ross claimed he was a loser, other than it apparently was played Friday in the Cactus Bar.

Both Watson and Reckner will be given hearings Tuesday at 10 a. m. before the New Cumberland squire. Each posted $200 bond.

Slee Retains Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Stanley Slee, 52, Steubenville, was reappointed today to the State Bridge Commission for a term ending March 31, 1967.

DiSalle Asks Assembly For Strong Lobby Law

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—In a special message to the 104th General Assembly today, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle called for a strong lobby law. He said: "It is more than urgent that we act now."

The message, sent to both houses, recommended establishment of a commission to regulate lobbying and a broadening of present law to include printed matter.

DiSalle said only 179 lobbyists are registered with the secretary of state. In the past five legislatures, he said, their numbers increased from 260 to 387.

Tension Mounts In Africa

U.N. Congo Force Warns Native Troops In Attacks

Violence Hits Personnel At Leopoldville

Lumumbists Drive Toward Capital As New Crisis Grows

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The U.N. Congo command threatened force against Congolese troops in Leopoldville today following a wave of attacks against U.N. personnel including what was termed a bestial attack against a woman.

Violence against off-duty personnel broke out Sunday night and early today in the jittery atmosphere arising from the advance of Lumumbist troops toward the capital.

A statement issued by the U.N. command said the attacks cannot be tolerated and will be resisted "with full force."

The attacked woman was a member of the U.N. civilian staff, the spokesman said. He said she was being driven home by an unarmed U.N. Sudanese officer Sunday night when the car was stopped by soldiers on a highway some distance outside Leopoldville.

Two Congolese armed with submachine guns climbed into the car and ordered the officer to drive to nearby Camp Reisdorf army post.

On the way the soldiers ordered the officer to drive in a bush area where other soldiers were waiting.

The woman was forced out of the car. The soldiers assaulted her while the officer was made to look on with a submachine gun jabbed into his stomach.

"It was a bestial assault," a U.N. spokesman said.

When the couple was released they took shelter in the home of a Belgian engineer.

In another reported incident four unarmed U.N. Canadian troops in a jeep were halted by Congolese troops near a scenic monument overlooking the Congo River.

They allegedly were ordered to take off their shoes and run for a mile over rocky ground while the Congolese beat them with rifle butts.

House Waits West Virginia Liquor Ballot

CHARLESTON (AP) — Everyone wondered the same thing as the Legislature reconvened today. Had six delegates changed their minds over the weekend about a liquor-by-the-drink referendum?

Assuming all the wets held fast, six switches from dry to wet were needed to put across the resolution in a House re-vote scheduled for 2:30 p. m.

The second vote was to be final. The issue can be reconsidered only once.

The resolution, if approved, would put a constitutional amendment before the state's voters in the 1962 election. The amendment would repeal the present prohibition against sale of liquor by the drink. However, bars would still be banned. The amendment would authorize the Legislature to permit serving liquor by the drink at tables only.

The House also had up for passage a bill to raise the tax on parimutuel betting at the state's four horse race tracks from 5 to 6 per cent. This would raise about $930,000 in added yearly revenue. The bill has not yet been before the Senate.

The Legislature reconvened with only two weeks left of the 60-day session. The constitutional adjournment deadline is midnight, March 11 — a week from next Saturday.

Still ahead is action on some major items in the Barron administration's somewhat altered revenue program.

At the outset of the session, Gov. Barron asked it to vote $17.5 million in new yearly revenue to be spent on economic development, roads, schools and other activities.

Rivers Bring New Flooding In Southland

12 Die, 10,000 Left Homeless Following Torrential Rainfalls

By The Associated Press

Swollen rivers continued to pour over a stricken Southland today, where 10,000 or more persons have been left homeless.

Damage from week-long floods in Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi will run into millions of dollars.

The Red Cross began establishing an emergency field disaster headquarters at Montgomery for flood victims.

At least 12 persons have died in Southern flood waters caused by torrential rains which lasted most of last week.

Stricken areas at a glance:

Alabama — Montgomery and central Alabama worst hit. At least 3,240 evacuated, including about 1,500 at Montgomery and 700 at Selma. Alabama River at Montgomery reaches record level of more than 23 feet above flood stage. Gov. John Patterson to ask for federal disaster relief.

Mississippi — Hattiesburg worst hit with 3,600 refugees. About 5,000 evacuated in state. Damage estimated up to $10 million. Gov. Ross Barnett appeals to President Kennedy to declare flooded areas major disaster area. Leaf River receding slowly at Hattiesburg.

Georgia — Columbus and West Point on Chattahoochee River at Alabama line suffer most damage. Police at Columbus estimate 1,000 evacuated. About 340 evacuated at West Point. Chattahoochee receding slowly.

While new floods threatened some residents of Mississippi, those evacuees who were able to return to their homes warily watched for alligators and poisonous snakes that spilled out of rivers and streams.

The new threats took in Mississippi's capital city of Jackson where the Pearl River is expected to crest Tuesday night or Wednesday morning around 34 feet, 16 feet above flood stage.

Gov. Ross Barnett, in asking President Kennedy to declare flood-stricken sections of Mississippi major disaster areas eligible for federal aid, said the flooding has caused "property damage, hardship and suffering so severe and extensive in scope as to go beyond the capabilities of the state and local governments to alleviate."

There were about 70 medical cases in 11 shelters at Hattiesburg where more than 3,600 evacuees were received.

River Reaches Crest

Cleanup Pressed After Wind Storm

The tri-state area was finishing cleanup operations today after a triple threat storm Saturday afternoon and night that started with a deluge of rain and high winds and wound up with a snow storm.

Principal damage was caused by high winds, which played havoc with electric wires in Wellsville, knocked out power at Salineville and caused comparatively minor trouble in East Liverpool and other nearby communities.

The storm sent the Ohio River on another rapid rise, but it crested this morning at 6 at 29 feet at Dam 7 at Midland — four feet below flood stage. The river rose from 23.2 feet at noon Saturday, a gain of nearly six feet as a result of the storm and the runoff from upriver.

The dam measured slightly more than an inch of precipitation in the heavy rain storm.

High voltage literally was "running wild" from the numerous lines which were felled in Wellsville by the winds, with the result that "18th St. was lighted up like a Christmas tree," officials said.

Fire Chief Robert Lewis said he received the first call of a felled power line at 5:45 p. m. and they then came in progressively for the next 15 to 30 minutes. The calls, in the order received, were to 18th and Chester Ave., 18th and Danbury Ave., 18th and Main St., 20th and Main Sts., 20th and Commerce St. and 9th and Wood Sts.

The lines seemed to fall as if in a "chain reaction," Lewis said. The wires fell onto the sidewalks, streets, across automobiles and onto the steps leading into homes. The wires were burning, arcing, flashing and jumping as if alive, he said.

William Black, district manager of the Ohio Power Co., said it was a "most unusual situation" at Wellsville. The wind whipped the lines together, causing them to short and burn down, he said.

Three Ohio Power Co. crews worked in Wellsville from the time the trouble started until 9 a. m. Sunday making repairs.

Lewis said many firemen, several residents, Deputy Sheriff Robert Beresford and Patrolmen Joseph Heiney, Charles Amato and Frank Daniels were stationed along the streets to halt traffic and keep residents away from the wires. They remained on duty for about 90 minutes until the power crews arrived.

Kennedy Eyes Business Rise To Cut Deficit

Advisers State U.S. Budget Faces Deficit Of Over $1.5 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has told leading congressional Democrats he is banking on an upturn in the economy to hold next year's budget deficit to $1.5 billion.

The President has been told by his economic advisers that the deficit in the current year ending June 30 now is expected to reach $1.5 billion instead of the $79 million surplus former President Dwight D. Eisenhower predicted in January.

Eisenhower's estimates were based, among other things, on a proposed boost of around $800 million in postal rates. While Kennedy is requesting a similar increase, he is said to have little hope that Congress will act on the matter this year.

Kennedy's hope of holding down next year's red ink spending is reported to be based on the belief of administration officials that business will pick up about mid-year and provide revenues at a faster pace than they are now coming into the Treasury.

Kennedy is represented as trying to avoid any spectacular increases in spending at this point. But he is said to be having difficulty in fitting his program of accelerated missile production and a stepup in air lift capacity within the pattern of a nearly balanced budget.

Eisenhower estimated defense outlays at $42.9 billion in the year beginning July 1. There are clear signs that Kennedy intends to raise that figure.

The Council of State Chambers of Commerce recommended Sunday that Congress should slice $3.4 billion from Eisenhower's fiscal 1962 budget instead of adding any new spending. It hit at what it called panicky antirecession efforts and called on Congress to reduce both spending and taxes.

Mohammed V Claimed

Son Succeeds Dead King, Moroccan Cities Guarded

RABAT, Morocco (AP)—Morocco's new king posted heavy security forces around strategic points today to keep a firm hand on the potentially explosive political situation created by the unexpected death of his father, King Mohammed V.

The popular 51-year-old monarch's heart failed Saturday after a minor operation, a team of 10 doctors announced.

The crown prince, Moulay Hassan, 31, was proclaimed king. An energetic, forceful young man educated in France, he was named in advance by his father as his successor in 1957.

Together they had run the government of this north African nation of 10 million since last May, trying to head off leftist challenges by outdoing their opponents in friendly overtures to Moscow and increasing estrangement from the United States.

As preparations went ahead for the funeral in the royal palace Tuesday, police and troops were posted around nerve centers in Rabat and other major cities.

The king had undergone a minor operation in the palace clinic for correction of a restricted nasal passage. Brief surgery had just been completed when the king's heart failed, the doctors said. They tried to revive the monarch with heart massage, drugs and electrical shock. After a 3½-hour fight, he was pronounced dead. The crown prince announced his father's death in a radio broadcast.

The Cabinet met to proclaim the crown prince as King Moulay Hassan II. It ordered seven days of mourning for the old king, a national hero in the long fight for independence from France.

Moulay Hassan, who also succeeds his father as premier, takes over a government divided between old guard conservative nationalists and independents.

Area Cleanup Pushed After Severe Storm

The wires actually became red hot and at 18th and Main the blacktop was set afire by the arcing. A tree was blown down in the park area of Broadway and several reports were received of damage to television antennas.

Ohio Power said there was no widespread trouble in East Liverpool. But there were isolated cases of trouble after wind whipped wires together, causing transformer fuses to blow out.

Salineville was without power for approximately two hours, the utility reported. The exact cause of the trouble was not determined, but circuit breakers at the station opened and locked out, causing a shutoff in the community's power.

In East Liverpool, the only general interruption came at 6:35 Sunday morning, but lasted only 10 seconds. It was caused by ice falling off wires, allowing the conductors to whip upward and strike other wires, the company explained.

Because of flooding and debris, Virginia Ave. was closed Sunday from Elmwood St. to the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks, city firemen said.

There was little damage in Chester, although some branches were blown down and two storm sewers were clogged. Cyril Govey, chairman of Council's street committee, said the street department worked Saturday night to open a sewer at Montana and Indiana Ave. and one at Indiana Ave. and 2nd St.

The high winds caused widespread power failure throughout Hancock County early Saturday evening, the Monongahela Power Co., reported today.

Some Weirton stores normally open until 9 p. m. were forced to close early because the power failure caused a "blackout" in some parts of the city.

Walter Jordan of the power firm's Chester office said crews worked repairing the lines from 5 p. m. Saturday until 11:30 a. m. Sunday. Service was restored fully today in most sections of the county.

The rural Chester area was hard hit by power failure. Jordan reported three customers in Johnstonville without power for several hours, 25 to 30 customers in the Middle Run Rd., three customers in Pughtown, two along 6th St. Rd., in Newell, and others south of Newell affected by the storm.

New Cumberland and Arroyo residents were without power when two 25,000-volt circuits from Weirton developed trouble from the high winds. One power line in the Congo area snapped.

There were so many power failures in Weirton that supervisory personnel of the power firm joined emergency crews in restoring service.

Some telephones were reported out along the Chester-Newell Rd.

Virginia Ave. will remain closed until the water in the low-lying section recedes and street crews can remove the debris, Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver said.

Copenhaver said most of the damage was confined to sewers clogged with debris washed away in the storm. Crews worked Sunday opening the sewers and resumed the job this morning, he Wellsville's sewage disposal plant was knocked out by the power failure and did not go back into operation until 8 a. m. Sunday, according to Safety-Service Director William S. Robinson. He said No. 2 pump station also was affected by the power failure and did not start up again until 9:30 a. m. Sunday.

He said some residents reported a backup of water in their basements. A few storm sewers overflowed and some dirt streets were washed out. Two crews worked practically all night, one clearing out sewers and the other spreading salt on the icy streets. Four men also worked all day Sunday cleaning up, he said.

$500,000 Damage Set In Northeastern Ohio

CLEVELAND (AP) — Storm-weary residents of northeast Ohio today were shaking off the effects of a weekend snowstorm which darkened some 75,000 nomes and caused damage and expenses up to $500,000.

The freak storm swept along a 150-mile line from the Pennsylvania border to Erie County, with the greatest concentration of damage in the Cleveland area. Wet snow and sleet, carried along on 55-mile-an-hour winds, tore down thousands of power lines.

The Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co., which sent 600 men out to repair the damage, said the storm was the worst in its 80-year history.

In Cleveland alone, 60,000 homes were without power for varying periods. Another 10,000 homes were affected in Lake, Ashtabula and Geauga counties.

By this morning, power was restored to virtually all homes.

The CEI had to call for help from crews in Canton, Toledo and Erie, Pa. The company said that during the night, its switchboard averaged three incoming calls a second from residents seeking repairs and advice.

Trestle Falls At Portsmouth

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — One workman was swept more than six miles down the swollen Ohio River today and two other workmen suffered minor injuries in collapse of a 1,000 - foot trestle. It was being used on the Greenup Dam construction site 14 miles east of Portsmouth.

Scioto County volunteer firemen rescued James E. Walden, 37, of Greenup, Ky., as he clung to a floating tree section in the darkness.

Walden is in a hospital. He suffered from exposure but his condition is not serious.

The collapse of the trestle into the river carried with it two huge cranes and miscellaneous equipment being used in the last stages of a cofferdam construction at the Greenup Dam site. There was no estimate of the damage, but authorities said it would amount to many thousands of dollars.

The flooding river caused collapse of the trestle, which provided workmen access to the cofferdam.

When it started to collapse, it threw Walden 43 feet into the river. He grabbed a section of floating tree and was swept downstream. The other workmen, Thomas D. Lowry, 40, of Portsmouth, and Charles Ball of Greenup, managed to grab hold of a ladder and climb to safety. They suffered only bruises.

The cranes and other heavy equipment had been in the cofferdam, but were hoisted to the trestle Sunday when engineers saw the river rising. When the trestle collapsed, the river was at the 45-foot stage, a few feet below flood stage.

2 Wellsville Men Held After Attack Complaint

Two Wellsville men, 21 and 28, are being held at Jefferson County Jail at Steubenville in connection with the investigation of the alleged criminal assault of a 21-year-old Rochester girl early Saturday morning.

The two men have been identified by the girl, but no charges have been filed against them.

The girl told authorities she met the two in a Wellsville tavern and then went for a ride in their car. She said they took her to a barn along the Hollow Rock Rd., where one attacked her.

The girl then caught a ride back into Wellsville and reported the incident to police. They picked up the men and turned them over to Columbiana County sheriff's deputies, who in turn took them to Steubenville when it was learned the incident occurred in Jefferson County.

The world's first full-scale plant for atom bombs was the Hanford Engineer Works, north of Pasco, Wash.

$2,337 Raised In Annual City Heart Sunday

A total of $2.337 was collected in the annual "Heart Sunday" solicitation in the city yesterday while a total of $334.87 was collected in Calcutta and part of St. Clair Township, according to Robert Cehrs of Crestview Dr., Oakmont, local chairman.

Meanwhile, a total of $700 was raised in the door-to-door canvass in Wellsville, according to Mrs. Myron Weis, Wellsville chairman.

Cehrs said the mail solicitation to date totals $1,457, with more expected.

A breakdown of the collection by areas follows:

Neville, $105.21; Westgate, $328.44, which includes Market St. West, $121.21, Market St. East, $20.46, Grant, $57.47, West End and Washington, $79.96, and Radio Heights, $49.34; Gardendale, $15.93; Lincoln, $311.26; Dixonville, $37.38; Horace Mann, $104.52; Garfield, $87.68; Klondyke, $71.04; Pleasant Heights, $134.20; LaCroft, $141.57; Westfield, $20.17; Glenmoor, $130.71; Taft, $544.36 and McKinley, $305.97.

Cehrs said that a total of $52.50 has been collected to date in the business solicitation in the Calcutta area. He said more envelopes were turned in today at Calcutta School and the money will be included in the final total.

The volunteers conducted the canvass yesterday between 1 and 3 p. m. Each worker then turned over the envelopes to the district captains and the money was taken to the YMCA where it was counted.

Small envelopes were left at homes where householders were absent.

Mrs. Donald Alexander of Michigan Ave. and Mrs. Carl Mack of Williams Ave. were co-chairmen of the drive.

Mrs. Weis said the money at Wellsville was turned in at the Carnegie Library. Refreshments were served the workers, she said.

$142 Raised At Newell In Heart Fund Canvass

Approximately $142 was collected in a house-to-house canvass in Newell Sunday for the Heart Fund, Mrs. Sadie Nally, chairman, reported.

Members of the junior and senior auxiliaries of American Legion Post 114 and the Y-Teens of Wells High School served as workers.

Letters have been sent to Newell business firms asking for donations to the Heart Fund. Anyone not contacted in the household canvass Sunday may mail donations to Mrs. Nally.

Palestine Gives $753 For Heart Fund Drive

EAST PALESTINE — A total of $753 was collected in the Heart Sunday fund campaign yesterday afternoon.

The outlying areas and New Waterford will be solicited this week. A total of $982 was collected in a combined city and outlying district drive last year.

The campaign was conducted by the Gamma Omikron Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority, assisted by girls of the Order of Rainbow. Gayle Hosack, Carol Guy and Linda McCauley won prizes for high individual collections.

50 Attend Meeting Of Pomona Group

LISBON — Over 50 attended a Pomona Grange meeting Saturday at the West Point Grange Hall. Lowell Smith of Minerva R. D. 2, master, presided at the all-day meeting.

The Pomona exchange project of the traveling clock was presented by the Pomona Grange to West Point Grange. Paul Gipp, former agriculture teacher at United Local School and now a government loan representative, was guest speaker.

Mrs. Blanche Oyer of Kensington R. D. 1, lecturer, presented a special program. Smith discussed the officer's conference he attended recently in Columbus.

A white elephant sale was held by the County Home Economics group. A coverdish dinner was held at noon.

GOP Candidates Enter Names At Ohioville Meeting

Several announced their candidacy for borough offices at a meeting of the Borough of Ohioville Republican Club Friday evening in the fire hall. The primary election will be May 16.

They include Elmer Gifford, burgess; Richard Rice, Mike Selak, Leonard Beck, Richard Graham, Floyd Kidder, Oscar Edwards, Sylvester Vranes, Sam Prince, Art Hum, Bernard Ratkovich, Paul Rice Jr., West Saucer, Paul Dawson, Ray Harris and Charles Kurcina, all for Council.

Pete Fedorko and Sam McKinney, tax assessor; Robert Monk, John Joseph and Olen Gibson, auditor; Earl Scheel and Charles Brown, school director; George Vlaich, Ben Hammond, Frank Speerhas and Mrs. Freda Rice, tax collector.

Mrs. C. E. Chaffee, judge of elections, first precinct, and Miss Dorothy Brdar, second precinct. Mrs. Gail Porter, inspector, first precinct, and Mrs. Herbert Nida, second precinct.

The club divided the township into seven areas, Midland View, Meadowbrocke, Ohioville, Salem Church, Fairview, TV Tower-Lisbon Rd. area and Tuscarawas Rd., and asked representatives of each to run for Council.

It was decided to send a letter to representatives in state government, since a new 2-cent a gallon gasoline tax has been adopted, asking for improvements to Route 68, Route 168 and action on construction of the Pittsburgh area expressway.

The club also will seek revision of the existing laws on annexation and the state building code used by the Department of Public Instruction.

Earl Scheel, chairman, presided and gave a brief review of an article on President Kennedy's first Congressional address.

Some $23 was raised at a white elephant sale after the meeting. Mrs. F. Paul Dawson, ways and means chairman, was in charge. Robert Dawson was auctioneer.

A social followed with women of the Executive Board serving refreshments. Next meeting will be announced.

Second precinct captains will meet Thursday, March 9, at 8 p.m. at the home of Earl Scheel. First precinct captains will meet Friday, March 10, at 8 p. m. at the home of George Vlaich to discuss final plans for a registration drive.

East End Man Absolved Of Home Entry Charge

A breaking and entering charge against an East End man was dismissed today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff after the court learned the defendant entered his former residence with a set of keys he had been given to secure some food and clothing for his five children.

After dismissing the charge against Hal Hamblett, 170 Haywood St., Judge Chertoff lectured the widower and Mrs. Antonette Jackson, 520 1st Ave., where Hamblett and his children had been staying until last week, on the "deplorable circumstances" in which the youngsters were living.

Hamblett had entered a not guilty plea through his counsel, Atty. W. S. Foulks, who related the circumstances to the court.

Finds New Hazard

CLEVELAND, Tenn. (AP) — Piano tuner Richard Burger, 25, discovered a new hazard for his profession when a golf ball exploded in his face. Burger found the ball in an upright piano he was repairing. It blew up when he lifted it. Burger, who said he had no idea how long the ball had been in the piano, was treated at a hospital for face and eye injuries.

Enjoying Ill Economic Health

Hypochondriacs — people who enjoy ill health — never admit it.

They talk endlessly about their symptoms, but they do not realize they are making pests of themselves.

They reveal the quirk in their mentality that causes them to think they are sick, when in fact they are as well as anyone else. But they do not know they are revealing anything. They think they are talking about their physical symptoms, nothing else.

Hypochondria can affect masses of people, too. All mental conditions can affect people in general, in the same way that Adolf Hitler's insanity finally became typical of all German thinking. Millions of Germans felt they were being persecuted, when in fact they were the persecutors.

Economic hypochondria now is affecting millions of Americans. They are enjoying economic ill health. They are exaggerating their symptoms.

A CORRESPONDENT who didn't sign his name left this cryptic paragraph on the editor's desk:

"When you talk about the recession, it reminds me of the story of the mother who was aroused by her radio-alarm clock, showered in her tile bath, had coffee from her automatic coffee maker, hustled the children off to school in the family's other car, stopped at the beauty shop to have her hair done and while there talked with the other patrons about what a terrible recession the country is going through."

That's economic hypochondria.

People who write and speak professionally routinely recite all the symptoms of distress they can think of because the recession is the fashionable thing to write and speak about now.

The whole country is staring in fascination at its own tongue in the mirror and wondering how things will stay in this terrible condition.

There is a great shaking of heads and wondering aloud how things can possibly get better, even if the miraculous occurs and they don't get worse instead.

The latest twist is to say that even if complete recovery occurs it won't take care of everything that's wrong, because what the country now needs is to grow 10 feet tall, instead of the 5 feet 7 inches that has been high enough to keep its head held up in the past.

It is a disturbing phenomenon — this mass hypochondria. It is making the United States feel sicker than it is, and taking the heart out of Americans who feel that the United States would get well faster if there were less maundering and moaning.

THERE IS a psychological mixup to be straightened out, as well as an inventory mixup and an undigested lump of unskilled labor stuck in its economic craw.

By talking too much about their symptoms of economic ill health, Americans are making themselves feel sicker than they are. They will not feel better until they quit accenting the negative and begin to accent the positive.

The country needs a psychological boost almost as much as it needs an improvement in its tax structure to encourage job-making enterprise.

Don't Wait For The Ohio Mail

Not the least maddening thing about the stubborness of misguided people whooping for federal aid for education is their refusal to understand that the cost of education is as local as the school systems that furnish it.

All that federal aid to education would amount to is putting local money into one big federal pot, then ladling it out according to need. So far so good.

But the borrowed money must be paid for. The cost must be borne by federal taxpayers. And who are the federal taxpayers?

They are the individuals, companies and corporations that pay taxes, and most of tax revenue is drawn from well-to-do states with everything to lose and nothing to gain by joining a federal pool for education costs. They're already paying for education.

For the few dollars they would get back after the high priests of school nationalism had mumbo-jumboed over the money, they would be clipped for many times that many dollars in future federal taxation.

THE REAL PUSH behind the drive to nationalize schools by training teachers, administrators and school board members to look to Washington for money is coming from states that claim they can't afford to educate their children and from states supporting two school systems because they don't believe in the 14th amendment to the Constitution.

People in these states have good reason to fawn over nationalists in Washington who would have things their own way if they could get their hands on the schools. One of the ironies of our life and times in this republic is the fast so many segregationists yap about saving state sovereignty only when they are hating Negroes.

When the issue is whether or not to let tax-producing states pick up the check for education's feet-draggers, state sovereignty is a dirty phrase.

In a breakdown of allotments proposed in the spending program for education now before Congress, Ohio pupils would get $16.30 the first year. Mississippi pupils would get $29.67. Who would pay the difference? Not Mississippi. The money would come from Ohio and other states already supporting first-rate school systems.

LAWRENCE G. DERTHICK, former U.S. commissioner of education and main speaker for the annual Ohio Education Association conference in Columbus, told more than 600 Ohio educators last week they should write to Washington and applaud nationalized education.

It's our conviction that Mr. Derthick and people who think as he does should concentrate on audiences in states that do not believe in paying for education. That's where the tub-thumping support for federal aid is going to be found—not in states where taxpayers have been paying their own way.

Washington had better not wait to be smothered by mail from Ohioans silly enough to believe in federal aid to education.

Great Idea, But It Won't Work

The bid and asked quotations on White House tattle-taling shot out of sight after President Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, explained that special precautions had been taken to stop all leaks.

These consisted in the main of signed pledges not to sell stories to magazines or other publications. The question whether stories could be told without an exchange of money is academic. That question never will arise, unless human nature was made over with the advent of a new administration.

But with the potential supply of White House tidbits and memoirs limited by a code of employe honor that will be honored by, well, by almost everybody, would-be publishers now can afford to bid up the price and would-be tattle-talers can risk higher asking prices.

It is a great idea, to preserve the privacy of the first family of the United States, but it won't work. As long as there are honest dollars to be made with the memoirs of the mighty, the meek and lowly will pick up some of the easy money, too.

And why shouldn't they pick it up if they can get it? They don't necessarily have to talk out of turn or out of time. All they have to do is let it be known they are keeping diaries so they, too, when their time comes to join the immortal throng of memoirists, can collect twice in one lifetime — once while employed, again when they retire. Everybody's doing it; it's a way of life.

3-Way Standoff On Harmony

The one thing that could blow hope of a natural recovery from the recession sky-high would be a fresh round of gut-fighting between employers and unions. A dozen union leaders and their opposite numbers among employers will make the decisions that can make or break natural recovery.

This is the purpose of President Kennedy's committee on labor-management policy. its 21 members are expected to work together to show the Kennedy administration how it can stave off such tragedies as the 1959 steel strike that started the recession and never should have been called in the first place.

But the omen for their working together to avert trouble is far from bright. All recent presidents have tried to get a cooperative effort under way in this bothersome area. Failure always was caused by the same thing.

In any board or commission to which employers are appointed because they are employers and labor leaders because they are labor leaders, there is a standoff. No labor leader concedes that an employer might be right about any issue in which the labor leader's union had taken a contrary position. No employer will give in to a labor leader on any dispute in which employers have taken a contrary position.

President Kennedy's commission has seven employer members, seven union members and five public members. His secretary of labor and his secretary of commerce also will serve on the commission.

If he stuck to five public members, he might have accomplished something. With a commission divided three ways and two of the three parts irreconcilable as far as all their existing positions are concerned, Mr. Kennedy may wind up with a three-way standoff as far as policy recommendations are concerned.

Politics Is Felt On Pay Bill

By Duane E. Croft

COLUMBUS

Twice in a row the speaker rang the voting bell and the two big tally boards in the Ohio House of Representatives lit up like Christmas trees.

The atmosphere in the 139-member chamber was anything but festive, however, because the legislators were recording their decisions on the first big issue of the 1961 session: The bill to give a 13-week extension of jobless pay benefits to unemployed workers who have exhausted their normal 26 weeks of aid.

All but a handful of the representatives favored the extension. Yet the voting boards did not show that.

Party-line Verdict

Beside every Democratic name was a red light, meaning "no." Beside every Republican name was a green light, meaning "yes." In a strict party-line decision, the Republican majority had passed its bill, but the Democrats had refused to throw in enough extra votes to make it an emergency measure taking effect upon the governor's signature.

The top leader of each party in the House—Speaker Roger Cloud for the Republicans and Minority Leader James A. Lantz for the Democrats—was elated. It's a rare occasion when either of them can command the obedience of every one of his members, and neither one expected to on this volatile issue.

The reaction of the individual members, however, was something else. Many a sad-faced legislator shook his head and muttered to himself, "How am I going to explain this to the folks back home?"

Knowing full well how hard it is to explain back home, the sad-faced ones also may have asked themselves why they ever got tangled up in this precarious business called politics.

Politics Rules

For there can be no doubt that politics ruled the day. No vote is cast on party lines unless there is a lot of politicking on both sides of the legislative aisle.

Take, for instance, the nature of the bill the GOP laid before the House. In addition to extending benefits beyond 26 weeks, it made a number of changes in the law passed two years ago, when the Democrats were in control.

The changes were aimed at correcting things considered by a lot of people to be abusive to the employers who contribute to the compensation fund.

As for the extension itself, it would be accomplished by means of a "trigger" based on a state wide average of unemployment. That is unpalatable to organized labor, a number of Democrats and Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, who think it is unfair to specific areas with higher unemployment than the rest of the state.

GOP Puts Dems on Spot

Thus the Republicans knew they were putting the Democrats on the spot by asking them to vote for something more than a simple emergency extender of jobless pay.

This GOP decision grew in part out of the fact that the Democrats had put the Republicans on the spot last November by calling a special session to pass a simple emergency extender. The GOP refused to give the opposition enough votes to make it an emergency and the bill failed.

Nevertheless, there was every reason for the Republican leadership to believe that the critical unemployment situation would override Democratic objections to other aspects of the bill, so that if enough Democrats crossed over the GOP would be able to take credit not only for an extender but also for "corrective" changes in the present law.

This is not to say the Republicans were of a single mind. In a caucus the day before the floor vote, several GOP members expressed doubt about whether they could go for the bill.

Viewpoints Differ

Some of them on the conservative side thought it was too liberal. Some of them of liberal bent thought it was too strict.

In short, there were a lot of individual opinions among both Democrats and Republicans.

One of the contributing factors to the final outcome was a fight in the Rules Committee on Monday night.

Cloud wanted the committee to schedule the bill for a floor vote Wednesday. Lantz argued that since the bill had not been available in printed form until Monday, many of his members did not know what was in it. He pleaded for a delay on the floor vote.

Cloud overruled the minority leader. Lantz was furious.

This fight in the Rules Committee became a crucial part of the fight over the bill. Lantz was able to convince his Democrats that he had been treated unfairly. Many a Democrat who had wavered over the bill, and some who had decided to support it, rallied to Lantz' defense.

Pressure Applied

Meantime, Cloud and his floor whip were putting the pressure on their reluctant GOP members.

So when the session opened on Wednesday, the question of the leaders' ability to command the respect of the people they lead had been injected into the already complicated battle over the merits of the bill itself.

Lantz had a last-ditch effort to put the bill into a form acceptable to the Democrats by offering an amendment to make it a simple extension of benefits. Rep. Robert A. Taft Jr., GOP floor leader, countered by arguing that the permanent changes were needed as much as the extender and that the bill was not extreme for either labor or management, but a sincere effort at compromise.

The Republicans supported Taft, the Democrats supported Lantz. The majority ruled and the amendment was defeated.

Then came the seperate votes on the emergency clause and the bill itself.

Leaders Command Support

On the legislative scene, they showed that each party's leader can command and get, when the chips are down, the full support of his followers.

That knowledge will influence all the rest of the work on the session, because in a free government there has to be a way to channel the diverse viewpoints of 139 individuals representing 88 different counties toward some focal point where a decision can be made.

What the two votes revealed about the members' concern for the plight of the long-time jobless is debatable.

The Democrats, feeling confident Congress will pass its own emergency-extender soon, say they were not willing to pass a permanent bill which they claim could hurt workers as much as it could help them.

If the Republicans were really interested in the jobless, the Democrats add, they could have supported the emergency extender last Novmber.

Parties Debate

The Republicans fire back with the reply that emergency action on their bill would have come to the aid of the Ohio jobless faster than the federal legislation will. Thus, they charge, it is clear that the Democrats are not sincere in their expressed concern for the plight of the jobless.

But there is one thing further that Wednesday's floor votes proved: In the legislative processes of representative democracy, there is no such thing as black and white. It's all gray.

So gray, sometimes, that only the man who was there understands what the fight was all about. And when he has put his vote on the record, he often despairs of being able to explain it to the folks back home.

They see it as just plain politics.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Maurice Gottlieb of Midland was named president of the congregation of the Sons of Israel.

Two East Liverpool players — Tom Snape, center, and Capt. Gil Simpson, guard — were placed on The Review's first all-county basketball team.

One hundred guests attended the annual banquet of the typographical and pressmen's unions at the Potters Hall.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Twelve cars of a westbound Pennsylvania Railroad freight derailed near Salineville.

White Rose Lodge 25, Daughters of St. George, marked its 52nd anniversary with a dinner at the Odd Fellows Temple.

TEN YEARS AGO — The Hancock Red Cross drive quota was set at $8,000, with Harvey Werkheiser as the Chester chairman and A. C. West of Chester as general chairman.

Mrs. Eugene Hall was renamed president of the New Century Club.

Luther Hough of Pennsylvania Ave., Chester, was named dog warden of Hancock County.

Some four out of 10 adults of both sexes have brown eyes, one-third blue, the rest hazel, gray, green or black. Almost 50 per cent have brown hair, 14 per cent black, 8 per cent blonde and 7 per cent are redheads. Of the rest, 20 per cent have become stylishly gray or white and 1 per cent have the distinction of being completely bald.

Public Notice

The council of one of the smaller western cities adopted a street improvement resolution.

This was to the effect that it was "necessary to improve High St. from North Mill St. to Crown Hill Rd. by installing a permanent street with integral curb, sidewalk and storm sewer, where necessary, and the installation of all utilities service lines to the property line."

The "said resolution" went on to specify and identify "the lots and lands" involved in the proposed improvement.

The plans, specifications, estimates and profiles "for said improvement," prepared by the city engineer, were on file in the office of the Director of Public Service and Safety.

The entire cost of the improvement was to be met by assessments "by the front foot upon all lots and lands fronting on High street" within the limits described. This was because the lots benefited directly.

Due notice of the proposed improvement was given in a legal notice. Signed by the clerk of council, this appeared in a local newspaper of general circulation. As provided by law, it was run several times.

While this notice was addressed generally "To Property Owners," it was also addressed specifically to a particular woman property owner living in New York City. It carried her name as well as her New York street address and apartment number.

Such individual treatment in a published notice is unusual, but is very much in line with the underlying principle of public notice. This is to put the individual or individuals on notice whenever an intended action may affect their rights.

Beginning Of The End

By David Lawrence

States Seen Losing Final Powers To Washington

Some day the historians may say that the Kennedy administration marked a new epoch in the American system of government — the beginning of the end of the 50 states in their traditional and constitutional role.

David Lawrence

For, without change of a word in the federal Constitution but by use of the power of appropriation of public funds, the states are headed for a role hardly more important in the future than that of cities and counties.

Big government — centralized government — has been given a new impetus.

This very week the President of the United States has proposed to Congress that $5.6 billion be spent for education — school construction and teachers' salaries — and he has asked also that Social Security taxes be raised to finance various social programs.

What does it all mean? Will the states hereafter be merely vehicles for political-party organizations to help win a presidential election and will the states of smaller population be continually subsidized by the taxpayers of other states?

Perhaps the clearest explanation, if not prophsey, of what is coming was given the other day by the new under secretary of health, education, and welfare, Ivan A. Nestingen.

He was formerly mayor of Madison, Wis. He was talking to a session here of the National Industrial Conference Board and there were in the audience the heads of many of the large businesses of the country.

HE MADE this significant observation, which was not fully reported in the press:

"The question is, as has fairly frequently been raised to me: Why is it that on questions of education, on matters relating to social security or aid to people in the field of welfare, or in the field of health, why is it that we have to centralize everything in a national administration and whether or not we cannot take care of it at a state or local level.

"I want to say this in answer to that, as a former municipal official: If we do not find a positive program coming forth from the federal government on these matters that are of concern, you won't have the action that is going to be needed to meet these problems in the years ahead for several reasons, and they are these:

"First of all, states and local units of government, on planes of varying degrees, don't have the financial wherewithal to provide for these needs. They do not have the taxing authority that is found in the federal government and they are not able to meet these needs at a local or state level in good part.

"We all are aware of the financial problems that are faced by some of the states, and the limited financial means and still the great resources, the great human resources they have within their population but the inability to provide for them on some of these programs.

"ANOTHER REASON why you will not be able to find a good and adequate answer and the answer that needs to be furnished at the pace that needs to be furnished from a local and state level, is that you do not have the political jurisdiction in which to act.

"Too many of these problems in the field of education, in the field of water pollution, in the field of air pollution, in the field of general welfare, do not have at the local level the political jurisdiction and control to act on these matters on a broad base.

"The federal government is going to have to take these steps. It is going to have to be in the best interests of all of us that these steps are taken by the federal government."

The above really shocked some of the members of the audience who talked about it among themselves afterward.

One businessman said it negated the assurances President Kennedy had given at the same meeting when he spoke of "strengthened programs for health, education, and science and research" and declared that "many of these programs are within the province of state and local governments."

He had added that full recovery "will increase the tax revenues that they so sorely need."

HE HAD SPOKEN only of the federal government paying "its fair share of development of these human resources" and not taking over the full responsibility in place of the states and cities.

Even more reassuring were the words of Vice President Lyndon Johnson, who said that "This administration does not and will not seek great new powers by proclaiming great new terrors" and that the purpose of the new leadership is "not to aggrandize government in order to make the state supreme."

When the years have passed and there is a retrospective glance at what began to happen in America in 1961 under the Kennedy programs, the historian may have to concede that under Secretary Nestingen was more nearly right than any other speaker about the gradual erosion of the constitutional powers of the states by the use of the U.S. Treasury's taxing authority and by the exercise by Congress of its assumed right to pass laws spending the taxpayers' money as it pleases.

Unscientific Scientists

By Raymond Moley

Three individuals from the Political Science Department of the University of Chicago, one of them recently retired after more than three decades of teaching, have issued a report commenting upon the alleged frauds in counting and reporting the vote in Cook County in last November's election.

They are Jerome G. Kerwin, retired, Herman Finer and C. Herman Pritchett, active. They call it a "sober and responsible evaluation of the charges" of fraud.

The report in the main is not an examination of the facts involved. It is a running commentary upon the publication in the press of the efforts of Chicago citizens to get the facts upon which grave charges of fraud have been based.

The circumstances surrounding this report call for comment concerning its nature, the conditions under which it was written, the time and facilities used in its preparation and the proprietary of individuals enjoying the privileges, immunities and standards of a great institution of learning, teaching and research in making such a report.

IT WAS UNDERTAKEN, so the professors say, after a telephone call by Prof. Finer to Mayor Daley. The report says that the reason given to the mayor was to "counteract" the unfavorable impressions over the nation about the competence and integrity of the electoral process for which the mayor, as supreme boss of the city, must assume such great responsibilities.

In short, the offer of the professors was to make a report which would help the mayor in his denial that widespread frauds existed. Thus the bias of the report and its reporters was comfortably established before the "research" began.

The professors conducted no first-hand examination of the facts at issue. Those who have been pressing the investigation were not interviewed.

In telling of sources of information, acknowledgement is made to only one person — the publicity man who serves Mayor Daley.

I can speak with the authority of an individual who in academic life directed many minutes and painstaking studies of crime in American states and cities, including Chicago, when I say that to justify putting the imprint of a man in academic life upon a study of such magnitude as this there would have to be at least a year's time by a competent staff, with finances of not less than $100,000 for expenses.

This study was done in a few weeks, with apparently no aid other than that of the publicity man and the free time of the professors.

THESE MEN, as teachers of political science, must know that there is something in the ethical codes of journalists and professors which should compel restraint in commenting on facts which are still under judicial process.

The alleged frauds are at this moment, and will continue to be for a long time to come, in the courts.

As individuals who would scarcely be mentioned in the press or otherwise, the relationship of the professors to the University of Chicago gives them their sole reason for prominence. Their personal qualifications for such a study are, on the record, negligible.

They disclaim any responsibility on the part of the university, to be sure. But they must be aware of the fact that when a man is known by the honor of association with a university faculty, he carries the reputation of that institution with him wherever he goes or in whatever he says.

The academic world has, can and should contribute mightly to public affairs and the public interest. But in such incursions into political controversy, it should have a deep sense of responsibility. There is no evidence of such responsibility in this report.

Youth Injured In Car Mishap At Columbiana

A Beaver Falls teen-ager and three members of a Newark family were injured in two traffic crashes in the area today and Sunday, the Lisbon State Highway Patrol reported today.

In a mishap at 1:20 a. m. today on Route 14 near Columbiana, John L. Morgan, 19, Beaver Falls suffered minor injuries when the car in which he was a passenger overturned.

The patrol said Morgan was a passenger in the auto of Joseph L. Manzelowski, 20, also of Beaver Falls, who lost control on a curve, went off the right side of the road, vered back onto the highway, overturned and then went over an embankment.

The driver and another passenger, Larry Walters, 20, of Beaver Falls R. D. 2, escaped injury.

Morgan suffered contusions and abrasions of the nose, left side and both knees and was treated at the Salem City Hospital. The patrol said Manzelowski was cited on a charge of unsafe operation.

A car driven by Roland W. Jones, 68, of Newark also overturned on Route 30 near Hanoverton Sunday at 3:50 p. m., injuring the driver, his wife and another member of the family, the patrol said.

Jones was driving west when he attempted to pass another vehicle. His car got around the unknown vehicle, but then went off the right side of the road, struck a guardrail, went back across the highway and overturned in a ditch.

Jones received lacerations of the lower left cheek and right side of the head, plus multiple abrasions of the right knee and hand and face. His wife, Grace Jones, 71, suffered a possible hip injury and multiple contusions of the right hip. Marie Jones, 42, of Bethesda, Md., received contusions and a whiplash injury of the neck.

The trio was treated at Salem City Hospital. Jones' car was demolished. He was cited on a charge of attempting to pass another car on a hill, the patrol reported.

Roars Of Lions Worry New Jersey Residents

FAIR LAWN, N.J. (AP)—Residents of a normally pleasant neighborhood in this suburban community are being kept up late nights by a frightening sound—the roaring of 11 caged and full-grown lions.

The lions are being kept in a warehouse until their appearance on a television program in New York this week.

They were brought here from California by their trainer, Chet Juszyk, who got permission from the local board of health to keep the lions here.

"Those roars mean they're hungry — and that's what worries me," said one neighbor of the lions.

Named 'Lion Of Year'

McCullough Gets Award

George McCullough, junior district deputy governor, was named "Lion of the Year" at the East Liverpool club's 37th annual Charter Night dinner Saturday night. Some 90 attended.

McCullough, left, is shown receiving the plaque from James Johnston, second vice president, who was in charge of arrangements for the affair at Deramo's Restaurant in Midland.

Johnston was presented with a Key award for securing new members by Dr. John A. Fraser, only active charter member of the organization.

Because of the weather, Dr. D. A. Macedonia of Steubenville, who was to have been the principal speaker, was unable to attend.

The entertainment included musical selections by Tony Bernardi, Charles Loughley, Mary Sue Rolley and Nancy Clark.

Howard E. Tice, president, presided and introduced Ernest Lowe, who served as toastmaster. The invocation was given by Donald Baxter.

Reports Highlight Singers' Session

Several reports were given at a meeting of Sweet Adelines, Inc., Friday night at Tice's Restaurant. Some 35 attended.

Mrs. Madalyn Mack, project chairman, said approximately $40 was realized from a recent bake sale. Mrs. Vallie Mostoller, costume chairman, displayed a cuff addition to the present gloves which was accepted. The group voted to purchase straw hats to complete the ensemble.

Several items from the suggestion box were read and evaluated. Mrs. Ruth Rinehart, president, conducted business. Mrs. June Morgan read the minutes and Mrs. Edith Alexander, the financial report.

A delegation plans to attend the barbershop parade of the men's group in Toronto March 11 at the high school.

Glenn Woods, director, conducted a practice session. The group will meet again Friday at the restaurant.

City Church Accepts Pastor's Resignation

The congregation of the Second United Presbyterian Church accepted the resignation of the Rev. Emanuel Emanuel at a special meeting after morning worship Sunday.

The dissolution of pastoral relations between Rev. Emanuel and the church and the Rev. Robert Tanguy and the Glenmoor United Presbyterian Church will be considered at the meeting of the Steubenville Presbytery Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. at the New Harrisburg Presbyterian Church at Carrolton.

Rev. Emanuel, who will preach his last sermon March 12, will assume his duties March 15 as pastor of the Covenant United Presbyterian Church in Akron. He has served as pastor of the local church since June 1959.

Rev. Tanguy, who preached his final sermon Sunday morning, will assume his duties Wednesday as pastor of the United Presbyterian Church at Jersey Shore, Pa.

Sheriff Files Annual Report

During 1960, the Beaver County sheriff's office made 107 arrests on court orders or bench warrants and 52 other miscellaneous arrests, Sheriff John W. Hineman reported today.

There were 362 complaints in trespass, 281 in divorce and 725 other miscellaneous writs. Some 920 prisoners were escorted from the county jail to the courts for trial hearings, etc., compared with 942 in 1959.

In the serving of writs and transportation of prisoners, the sheriff and his deputies traveled a total of 56,790 miles. Some 96 prisoners were transported to and from institutions.

Sheriff sales of real estate in 1960 numbered 54, while 23 sales were stayed or cancelled. The appraised value of the properties was $605,375. The debt incurred was $588,240.96. The market value of property sold was $623,119.

Of total cash received, the office disbursed $113,503.81 to plaintiffs and turned over $19,287.46 to the county treasurer. In addition, the sheriff's office was entitled to credit for $16,938.12 in fees chargeable to the county.

Another activity of the sheriff's office is the drawing and summoning of jurors. A total of 2,442 such summones were issued and served last year. The office issued 1,056 gun permits.

Area Motorist Fined, Another Forfeits Bond

An area motorist was fined and a Pennsylvanian forfeited a bond today in traffic hearings before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Richard Schmidbauer of Shadyside Ave. was fined $5 and costs for failing to observe a stop sign at the intersection of Shadyside Ave. and Route 7. He was cited Friday by the State Highway Patrol.

Albert L. Marker, 27, of Farmington, Pa., forfeited a $17.50 bond for crashing a traffic signal at E. 3rd St. and Broadway this morning.

Gun 'Horseplay' Ends In Death Of Youth, 19

COSHOCTON, Ohio (AP)—Paul Dannemiller, 19-year-old grocery store employe from Monroe Falls, an Akron suburb, was shot and killed Sunday by his 18-year-old cousin. They were engaged in a "little bit of horseplay," the Coshocton County sheriff reported.

The cousin, Michael Rodgers, was holding his 12-gauge shotgun when "Dannemiller grabbed it or something," Sheriff William Hoop Jr. said. The gun discharged and Dannemiller was hit in the abdomen.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Children Should Not Be Exploited

Let us not treat even the tiny infant as if he were a bonbon to taste or a rose to smell. He's a precious personage. Our privilege is to observe his development and not to hamper it for our own amusement. It's when the infant begins to respond to persons and eventually to do and say things which amuse the adult and exalt the parents' pride that they are most inclined to let their human frailties do him harm. His normal development is sure to cause his parents to be amazed and to suppose the relatives and neighbors also should be.

Dr. Garry Meyers

BETWEEN THE child's second and fourth year this easily may happen. His speech is developing then and his remarks and questions readily amaze persons who don't well understand what to expect of him.

His parents and close relatives usually suppose he is very precocious, whether he really is or not; and if still other adults suppose him to be unusual, he soon becomes the victim of exploitation and is shown off and marveled at.

Before long, intoxicated with the stimulation, he may try so hard to show off that more and more adults outside the family are fed up with and even annoyed by him. The result is that they gradually ignore him.

Puzzled and disturbed he may even resort to all sorts of priggish and boorish behavior and thus increase this dislike of him, not only by adults but by other children also.

—:—

IN SOME AREAS, parents may feed their own pride by encouraging the young child in his exploits. When, for example, he begins to build with blocks, his parents wisely may encourage his constructive skills by calling the attention of a guest to some buildings he has long been working at.

So also to some pictures he has been drawing, especially if he has worked long at them.

As he grows more adept with tools, and makes things out of paper, cardboard, wood or clay, to have a neighbor or guest see some things he has thus created may be wholesome.

Even with the child six to 14, having a guest see something he has made in his workshop with long hours of creative effort can have a very good effect, especially if the observing person really appreciates the child's achievement. Nor may the effect be different with the child's achievement at playing a musical instrument.

—:—

HERE ARE THE principles that should guide us:

How does the observing guest appreciate the child's effort?

Is the child stimulated to go on striving in the desirable skills and creation?

If the guest is bored, if the child feels he is merely being exploited for his parents' pride, the effect would, of course, be bad.

Athlete In Cumberland Put On Academy List

A New Cumberland High School athlete is one of 10 young men from the First Congressional District of West Virginia who have been nominated by Congressman Arch A. Moore Jr. to compete for an appointment to the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.

He is Charles W. Miller Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Miller of New Cumberland R. D. 2, one of the leading scorers on the team's varsity basketball squad. His father is a former high school basketball coach.

Others nominated are: Jon Ward Letzkus, Jack Edward Kain and Robert Harry Harris, Wheeling; Robert J. Kaminski, Weirton; George William Nicholas, Wellsburg; Chester Samuel Conrad and Robert Blair Frazier Jr., Fairmont; David Nelson Pyles, Moundsville, and James Ashton Schaefer, New Martinsville.

A total of 110 men from the district participated in the screening examinations Jan. 7.

9 Tons Of Food Given To Needy In February

LISBON — Over nine tons of surplus food was distributed in February in the surplus food program, Welfare Director Robert Bycroft reported today.

There were 897 cases certified for surplus, a total of 2,979 people.

A total of 18,307 pounds of food was distributed at the four distribution points — Lisbon, East Liverpool, Wellsville and Salem.

A breakdown showed 3,244 pounds of milk; 1,917 pounds of rice; 25 pounds of cornmeal; 8,780 pounds of flour; 68 pounds of dried eggs; 2,010 pounds of lard and 2,263 pounds of butter.

Distribution dates for the March issuance of food will be announced later, Bycroft said.

Cargo tonnage passing through the Panama Canal set a new record during 1960: 59,258,219 tons. The number of ships using the canal, 10,795, also was a new record.

Former City Man To Take Pulpit At Cleveland Heights

The Rev. Clarence L. Thomas of Youngstown, a former resident of St. George St., Sunday was named pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church at Cleveland Heights.

Born in Akron, he was graduated from East Liverpool High School in June 1939. He served in the Navy for two years in World War II and later attended Muskingum College, graduating in 1947. He also is a graduate of the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary.

Before going to Youngstown to serve as pastor of the Liberty United Presbyterian Church, he was pastor of the LaPrairie (Ill.) United Presbyterian Church.

The new pastor, his wife and two sons and two daughters will move into the manse Wednesday.

Wellsville Mayor Fines 2 Motorists

Two Wellsville men were fined on old traffic charges at hearings Saturday before Mayor William J. Shoub of Wellsville while a Washington, D. C., motorist forfeited bonds totaling $400 when he failed to appear for a hearing on three traffic violations.

Charles Faris, 605 17th St., was fined $200 and sentenced to three days in jail for leaving the scene of an accident. Shoub suspended the jail sentence and half of the fine. He was cited following an accident Feb. 17.

William Russell, 1905½ Nevada St., was fined $100 for leaving the scene of an accident on Jan. 25. The mayor suspended $75 of his fine.

Jerry L. Bennett of Washington forfeited $250 for driving while under the influence of alcohol, $50 for driving without an operator's license and $100 for leaving the scene. He was arrested Feb. 18 after he hit a parked car on Clark Ave.

GE President Retires, Cites Health Reasons

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert Paxton is retiring as president of General Electric Co., Chairman Ralph J. Cordiner announced today.

Cordiner said Paxton's retirement is due "to the need for a continuing period of convalescence following major surgery in January."

Paxton's retirement comes in the wake of antitrust actions by the government in which General Electric and 28 other electrical manufacturing firms were fined and seven of their executives were sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Crash Hurts 2 In Cumberland

Two members of a New Cumberland family were injured, neither seriously, in one of three weekend traffic crashes in Hancock County, the sheriff's office reported today.

Deputies said Doris L. Wharton, 33, of New Cumberland Heights, was attempting a turn onto Ridge Rd. off Route 2 when she went into the path of a truck Saturday at 4:01 p. m.

The woman's auto and a northbound truck operated by C. A. Williamson, 63, of New Cumberland R. D. 1 collided.

Williamson, the New Cumberland woman, and a daughter, Donna L. Wharton, 14, a passenger in her mother's car, were injured.

Deputies said cars driven by Robert L. Vaughn, 38, of Chester and Larry Shaffer, 20, of East Liverpool were involved in a mishap at 8:15 p. m. Saturday near the Newell Bridge.

In a third mishap Sunday at noon on Route 66, a car driven by Joe A. Rumies, 51, of Weirton was struck in the rear by Arthur K. Delvy, 46, of Newell.

Rumies was driving south when he signaled for a left turn. Delvy's auto crashed into the rear of Rumies' car, deputies said, as he was unable to halt in time to avoid the collision.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Cancelli are making their home in Niles following a wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains.

They were united in marriage Feb. 11 in St. Stephens Catholic church in Niles by Fr. J. J. O'Dea.

The bride is the former Rosemarie Haller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Haller of Niles. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anello Cancelli, 820 Maryland Ave.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white peau de sole. It was styled with a round neckline trimmed with iridescent pearls, long pointed sleeves with pearl trim at the wrist and empire waistline. The bouffant skirt ended in a chapel sweep. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a crown of pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses tied with bridal satin streamers.

Miss Yvonne Abdoo was maid of honor. She wore a velvet and red taffeta ensemble and carried red and white carnations.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Ruth Ruscello, Mrs. Dorothy Orosz, and Miss Josephine Joseph.

Neal Cancelli, brother of bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Eugene Ruscello, David Orosz and Richard Anzello II.

A reception was held in the Bagnoli hall in Niles after the ceremony.

The bride was graduated from Trumbull Memorial Hospital School of Nursing in Niles, and is employed as a surgical nurse on the hospital staff. Her husband, who was graduated from Midland High School, attends Youngstown University school of business administration. He is employed by the Ohio State Bureau of Employment Security.

A program on the two new states, Hawaii and Alaska, highlighted the meeting of the East Liverpool Garden Club Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Wayne Dorsey, 1063 Ohio Ave., president. Mrs. Clarence Green was co-hostess.

Mrs. Ray Unger, program chairman, opened with a poem, "Friends," and distributed the program books featuring hand-painted pansies on black suede cloth. The committee which compiled the books included Mrs. Unger, Mrs. Harold Gallimore, Mrs. Donald E. Wolfe, Mrs. John Keller and Mrs. Leo Lawrence.

Roll call response was a state flower.

The arrangement of the month was presented by Mrs. John Keller.

Business was conducted by the president and reports included work of the Senior Citizens by Miss Roxie McElroy, chairman, and Mrs. Alfred Boulton.

The club will donate a cake to a local nursing home next week for a patient's birthday anniversary. Mrs. Boulton will be in charge.

Mrs. Robert Burch reported that the copper tooling workshop will be held Thursday at 1 o'clock at the YMCA. A field trip to gather cones was planned for this afternoon.

Mrs. Lillian Dorsey, ways and means chairman, said that a rummage sale is scheduled May 3-5.

Mrs. Green announced that the Cleveland Home and Flower Show will be held Saturday through March 12 at the Public Auditorium. A group is planning to attend March 9.

Mrs. George White, book chairman, also gave a report.

A buffet lunch was served by the hostesses from a table decorated in a patriotic theme, using red carnations and white snapdragons in milkglass. Red tapers in milkglass holders completed the setting.

Guests were Mrs. Charles Heasley and daughter, Debbie, and Mrs. John Dorsey.

The 17th anniversary of the club will be observed at the meeting March 23 at the home of Mrs. Lawrence of Midway Ln. with a coverdish dinner. The social committee will be in charge with Mrs. Frank Richmond chairman.

Sophomore Cabinet Names Committee For Class Party

Committees for the Sophomore class party to be held March 24 have been named by the ELHS Sophomore Cabinet.

The event, which will be open only to the sophomores of the high school, will be held in the Memorial Auditorium from 8:30 to 11 o'clock. Party dress will be the attire.

The vice president of each registration room is automatically on the ticket committee, with Sally Golden as chairman, Donna Hickenbottom, co-chairman, and Miss Edna Clouse as faculty advisor.

Committee chairmen and co-chairmen and faculty advisors include:

Cleanup — Tom Kraft and Vicki Lamborn and Mr. Charles Vandermer.

Publicity — Patti Stepanovich and Ira Sayre.

Tables — Gary Taylor and Bill Bigelow, and Miss Mary Anna Lindsay and Mrs. Ruth Earl.

Refreshments — Madelon Schlang, and Woody Harlett, and Harold Bricker.

Entertainment — Charlene Carroll and Miss Jerry Horger and James Harris.

Records — Marty Steinberg and Sue Montgomery, and Nunzio Polichene.

Decorations — Georgianna Culiz and Holly Lampman, and Mrs. Sondra Marshall and Charles DeJulius.

Mrs. Barbara Wilson is the general chairman.

Wonderland Theme Marks Y-Teen Dance At Wellsville

A dropped ceiling of midnight blue with silver stars transformed the Wellsville Beacom Memorial Gym into a "Wonderland by Night," the theme for the annual Sweetheart formal dance of the Y-Teens Friday night.

Swinging gates with an archway bearing the theme in silver and illuminated by a blue floodlight formed the entrance. Two 4-year olds, Randy Martin and Robin Boyce, stood at the gate and passed out the programs.

A park bench and artificial flowers completed the setting. The centerpiece on each of the tables was a silver star containing candy.

Parents of the Y-Teens were admitted to the grand march led by Judy Reight, president, and her escort, Jerry Hoskinson. Some 80 couples danced to the music of Johnny Chick and his orchestra of East Palestine.

Committees were: Mary Lou Beaumont and Kathy Kozora, co-chairmen; Mary Falconer, Kathy Kozora, Terry Martin and Judy Reight, program, Jean Ann Monte, Janet Reight and Carol Sue Roberts, tickets, and Bonnie Campbell, Marianne Dalrymple and Vondra House, table decorations. Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCracken were chaperones.

Cancer Group Reports Annual Cure Rate Rise

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Cancer Society says the cure rate of cancer is increasing about one per cent a year.

The society, in its 1960 report released Sunday, also said there is a pronounced trend toward early diagnosis of the disease.

4 Students At Chester Join Wheeling Concert

Four members of the Chester High School Band participated in a concert with band students from 19 high schools in West Virginia and Ohio Saturday night at Wheeling.

They were Norma Hoyt, baritone horn; Carol Erwin, French horn; Richard Reber, bass drum, and James Wilson, cornet.

Loran Mercer of Warwood High School was guest conductor. Dan McCathren of Duquesne University was guest soloist.

Newell Fire Auxiliary To Make Dinner Plans

The auxiliary of the Newell volunteer fire department will hold a special meeting Wednesday night at 6:30 in the fire hall to discuss plans for a coverdish dinner.

The group also will discuss plans for selling fish sandwiches each Friday from 4:30 to 8:30 p. m. in the station to raise funds for purchase of fire-fighting equipment.

The sandwich sale will begin March 10. The coverdish dinner for auxiliary members and their families is set Saturday night.

Mrs. Jeannette Mercer is president.

Miss Shaffer, Dennis Deem Marry In Lisbon Church Rite

Miss Margaret Marie Shaffer and Dennis William Deem pledged marriage vows Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock before the altar of the Lisbon First Christian Church.

The Rev. William Spangler, pastor, officiated at the single ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Shaffer of Wellsville R.D. and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Deem of Clarkson.

Two seven - branch candelabra lighted the chancel, which was banked with ferns. White satin bows marked the family pews. The custom of open church was observed.

Mrs. Vernon Duke, organist, presented the "Wedding Prayer", "Oh Promise Me," "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

Escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents, the bride appeared in a gown of white satin of ballerina length with a fitted bodice coming to a V in front and back on the bouffant skirt trimmed with appliques of lace. The bodice featured a scalloped Sabrina neckline adorned with sequins and pearls and long sweetheart sleeves. A satin cap embellished with sequins and lace held in place her cathedral length veil of illusion. She carried a white Bible, topped with an orchid and greenery and cascading satin streamers. The Bible belonged to her aunt, Mrs. Anthony Hoy, and was used at her recent wedding.

Attendants Listed

Miss Jeannie Wandle of Lisbon, a friend of the bride, served as maid of honor and was her only attendant. She wore a blue taffeta gown of ballerina length with shirred bodice, a scalloped neckline and harlem skirt with a large bow at the back. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white carnations and satin ribbons.

John William Todd of Clarkson, a friend of the bridegroom, served as best man. Dean Smith of Lisbon and Jerry Ewing of Canfield ushered.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Shaffer chose a black silk dress with matching hat and white accessories and the bridegrooms mother wore a Navy blue ensemble with white accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

A reception was held in the church social room immediately following the ceremony. The refreshment table was laid in white linen with milk glass punch bowl and holders with lighted white tapers. The three-tier wedding cake was decorated in pink roses and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. The reception party was planned by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Mary Hoy, who was assisted by Mrs. Nannie Meehan and Mrs. Kathryn Bush.

100 At Reception

Miss Charlotte Childs, a friend, presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Ronnie McCartney, an aunt of the bride, served the cake.

Mrs. Barbara Todd registered some 100 guests from East Liverpool, Wellsville, East Palestine, Canfield, Clarkson, Hanoverton, Leetonia and Lisbon.

The bride is a senior in David Anderson High School, where she will continue her studies and will be graduated in June.

Her husband attended New Waterford High School, completed Army service in 1959 and is employed as a moulder at the Crucible Steel Co. in Midland.

After a short honeymoon, the couple will reside in an apartment at 421 W. Maple St.

Gifts were presented the attendants when the bride's grandparents, with whom she has resided during the school term, were hosts to the wedding party following rehearsal at the church Wednesday evening. A late supper was served.

Anniversary Marked

The 55th anniversary of the Lisbon Temple of Pythian Sisters was observed Friday evening with a 6:30 coverdish dinner. Eighteen attended, including visitors from Columbiana.

At a social hour, 500 was the diversion and scoring honors went to Mrs. Marian Morris and Mrs. Laura Christopher.

The next meeting will be March 10.

Mrs. Jeannie Holshue of Grant St. entertained the Cardette Club Friday night.

Two tables of 500 were in play, with prizes awarded Mrs. Mary Hahn, Mrs. Glenna Vargo and Mrs. Bernard Sweeney. Lunch was served.

The next meeting will be March 10 with Mrs. Letha McCowin in Rogers.

Miss Helen Gillis was hostess to the Bethany Class of the First Christian Church Friday night at her home on N. Beaver St.

Mrs. Carl Armstrong, president, conducted business and Miss Esther Stackhouse led devotions.

2 Present Articles

Mrs. Ben Wilson presented an article on "Lincoln" and Mrs. Sidney Scroggs discussed "Washington". Lunch was served by the hostess.

No date was set for next month's meeting.

Members of the Cuckoo Club held a 7 o'clock luncheon when Mrs. Bessie Cullison entertained at her home Saturday evening.

Two of Mrs. Cullison's grandchildren assisted with serving. A social time with cards followed.

Mrs. Bessie Flugan will be hostess March 11 at her home on W. Lincoln Way.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Cannell of Sebring spent Saturday with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Helman of N. Beaver St.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig Glascott and daughters, Debora Jo and Lori Ann, of Maple Heights visited over the weekend with his uncle and grandmother, Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Egli and Mrs. Frances Egli of W. Lincoln Way.

Student Visits Parents

Bill Robinson, a student at Kent State University, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Robinson of W. Lincoln Way.

Slide Causes Car To Crash

A car driven by a Steubenville woman smashed into several large rocks which rolled from the hillside along Route 7 at Flag Pole Hill about a half mile below Yellow Creek Saturday evening.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said it received a report of the slide about 4:45 p.m. and the car driven by Miss Helen V. Morris, 37, of Steubenville hit the rocks during the heavy storm at 5:30.

Patrolmen said it took three men to slide some of the rocks to the edge of the highway. Considerable damage resulted to the woman's car.

At the same place at 7:40 p. m., a car driven by Marvin Bryant, 28, of Weirton hit the left rear of a tractor-trailer rig driven by Larry A. Walters, 22, of Youngstown.

Although heavy damage resulted to the car, very little resulted to the trailer. Officers said Walters did not realize his rig had been struck and continued on. He was halted by Wellsville police who notified him of the accident.

The patrol said another rock slide occurred during the storm at the north limits of Steubenville. One lane of Route 7 was closed until the State Highway Department could clear away the dirt and rocks.

Grant Democrats Air Plans For Anniversary

Plans for a first anniversary celebration were discussed when the Grant District Democrat Club met Sunday afternoon with Miss Donna Wright of Route 30, Chester.

The club's officers planned the celebration for March 23 at 7:30 p. m. in the Chester Veterans of Foreign Wars hall. The club received its charter March 23, 1960.

Alonzo Brown Jr., vice president, presided. Nomination of officers will be held at the general meeting March 23 in preparation for the April election. Arnie Durham of Newell is president.

Lunch was served by Miss Wright, assisted by a brother, Del Wright.

Fairview Grange Dinner Attracts 75

About 75 attended the Fairview Grange's George Washington Birthday dinner party Saturday evening in the Grange Hall.

Logs and hatchets were centerpieces for each table. Individual place settings were marked with small bunches of cherries and leaves. Mrs. Robert Smith headed the social committee.

An auction by the ways and means committee followed. Anthony Perrotto was chairman and George Hendricks, co-chairman. Robert Dawson was auctioneer.

Because of the weather, the fair committee did not meet. Its next meeting will be announced. The Grange will meet March 7, when third and fourth degrees will be conferred on new members.

F. Paul Dawson is master.

Elderly Offer New Ideas On House Needs

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Surveys to determine what the nation's elder citizens want in the way of housing are nothing new.

But an on-the-spot survey, made in a house built for that very purpose, is a bit different.

The study was conducted only a few blocks from the White House in Washington. There, on a downtown lot, a two-bedroom house was built especially for evaluation by the White House Conference on Aging.

Designed by architect Robert B. Waring to include many special features considered desirable for families of any age and essential to those past 60, the house was completely furnished, decorated and landscaped.

The entire project was under the direction of the American Association of Retired Persons, with half-a-million membership, and the Douglas Fir Plywood Association.

Three thousand delegates from every state and United States possession carefully looked over the house and then answered a lengthy questionnaire designed to determine the likes and dislikes of the elder citizens. There were some interesting results.

Told that this special house would cost between $10,000 and $12,000, including land, only 10 per cent of the delegates said their down payment would have to be less than $1,000.

Thirty-six per cent said they could make a down payment of up to $3,000. And 46 per cent said they could pay more than $3,000.

The design of the house, contemporary with a heavy influence from Japanese architecture, features an interior courtyard that helps to avoid the boxy appearance of many small houses.

A high, beamed ceiling gives an airy feeling to the otherwise small rooms in the living area. While the house learns more heavily toward modern design than traditional, an effort was made to avoid clashing with what is considered the conservative tastes of most senior citizens. Eighty one per cent of the delegates called the design very good and 19 per cent thought it fair.

A bath tub was considered essential by 81 per cent of the delegates, with 59 per cent in favor of a shower as well as a tub. Only 19 per cent thought a shower alone was adequate.

Forty per cent said they would be willing to spend about $500 extra for a fireplace. Seventy-eight per cent thought the size of the rooms about right. Twenty-two per cent thought them too small.

Most of the senior delegates want more than a house. They are interested in available facilities in the area.

For instance, 66 per cent considered it essential that there be nearby medical clinics or offices, 31 per cent considered them desirable and 1 per cent thought this was not important.

And, in case you are wondering, only 5 per cent considered nearby shuffleboard courts important, although 43 per cent wouldn't mind having them. The rest weren't interested.

Mitchell Due To Speak For Ohio Businessmen

CLEVELAND (AP)—James P. Mitchell, former secretary of labor in the Eisenhower Administration and now a Republican candidate for governor of New Jersey, will be among several speakers Thursday at a conference on "Business Problems in the '60."

More than 400 executives from northeastern Ohio are expected to attend the one-day event here. Mitchell will speak on "Current and Future Labor Problems." The program is sponsored by the Rotary Clubs of Northeastern Ohio. Other topics to be discussed include unemployment, automation, retraining, foreign aid, communist trade and the U. S. gold situation.

Congressman Dies

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—John Edward Dixon, 83, retired president of the Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton Corp., makers of locomotives, died Sunday after a short illness. Since his retirement in 1950, Dixon served as board chairman of the corporation.

POUND NEARS COMPLETION. Recent warm weather has enabled Robert E. Finley, Chester contractor, to proceed rapidly with construction of Hancock County's new dog pound. The 36x48-foot cement block structure, located near Pughtown on ground of the County Children's Home, may be completed late this week. The $6,200 structure will contain nine 8x10-foot pens and one 10x24 foot. Cats will be kept in wire cages. A gas chamber for extermination of strays will be erected in the rear. Workers were to pour the cement floor today. Sub-zero temperatures slowed construction in January.

Wood Can Attain A 'Marble' Look

Ap Newsfeatures

Question: Some weeks ago I bought an unfinished wooden coffee table and have been debating with myself ever since on what kind of finish to put on it.

My wife says she read somewhere a long time ago about a method of giving wood a marble effect with the use of paint. I'd like to try my hand at it. Can you tell me how it is done?

Answer: Yes, there is a way to simulate the marble look on wood. Some persons do it beautifully and get an almost exact marble appearance.

Others just can't seem to get the hang of it. Should it fail to come out the way you expected, it's a simple matter to paint over the whole thing with another color. If you want to try the marble effect, here's how it goes: Apply a white undercoater paint to the top of the table.

When it is thoroughly dry, apply a dark high - gloss enamel with a paint brush about two and one-half inches wide. The enamel should be thinned a bit with turpentine.

While this dark enamel is still wet, apply a light color enamel with an artist's brush, twisting the wrist and hand to simulate the marble veining. Immediately apply still another enamel, a different light color, also using an artist's brush. Next — and again while the paint is still wet — crumple a piece of newspaper into a ball. Dab the wad of newspaper on the veining.

This last procedure softens the lines while at the same time picking up any loose paint. Allow the entire job to dry — and you have your marble effect.

Cleveland Singer Wins Metropolitan Audition

CLEVELAND (AP)—Miss Annelle C. Delfs, 26, a Cleveland lyric soprano who has spent half her life studying voice, Sunday won $300 and an audition at the Metropolitan Opera in New York.

She was given first place in the Great Lakes region auditions for the Met, beating out four competitors. Sharon B. Dwyer, 21, of Plain City, finished second and won $200. Third place went to Jerry Crawford, 23, of Herrin, Ill.

Oldtime Bootlegger

CLEVELAND, Tenn. (AP) — Most Tennessee moonshiners deliver their illicit wares in cars with plenty of horsepower so they can outrun police in a pinch. But in Ellis Harris' case, he had the horsepower and police had the pinch. Harris was arrested on charges of delivering bootleg liquor in a horse and wagon.

Ideas Offered For Repairing Roof 'Valley'

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY
Written For Bell Syndicate

Where the direction of a roof changes or where the roof of an addition meets the main roof at an angle, there will be an intersection known as a valley.

This is always protected by a valley flashing which is made of metal and over which the shingles of the two roof sections rest.

Because of the ease with which snow and ice rest in these valleys, they rust or corrode far more rapidly than do ordinary flashings. As a result, they require more care and often replacement.

The easy method for repairing a valley flashing is to cut a number of 8-inch squares out of copper, aluminum, tin, or even heavy tarpaper, and bend them in a line from point to point.

This gives you a number of scales which can be shoved up under the shingles and over the flashing so that the lower point of the upper scale overlaps the scale beneath it. This offers a very excellent water-shedding valley flashing.

Naturally, copper is the best metal to use, next will be aluminum, then tin. There is no necessity for nailing the scales in place as the shingles will hold them.

If the owner does not want to spend the money for metal scales, heavy tarpaper is quite effective and will last for a number of years. If the paper is used, the valley should be coated first with roof cement. After the paper scales are in place, they should be coated with asphalt paint or with the roof cement.

Needless to say, whenever we write about any kind of roof work, we end up with the warning that it should be approached with extreme caution.

Never walk around on a roof. Move around on hands and knees and you will be far safer. And never go on a wet roof. The chances of slipping are doubled.

Police Judge, 60, Has First Parachute Jump

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Police Judge DeWitt Rowland says he found his first parachute jump like "stepping out of a bathtub. . .except for the landing."

Rowland, 60 years old and a pilot since 1928, made the jump from 2,500 feet "for practice," in case of an emergency.

He landed with a bump and roll to the cheers of younger friends in the Rainier Parachute Club.

Canal Supported By Steelworkers

The revived plan for a Lake Erie-Ohio River Canal was endorsed by United Steelworkers District 26 at a meeting which ended Saturday night in Youngstown.

Support for the plan was voted by delegates from 129 locals in Columbiana, Mahoning, Trumbull and Ashtabula Counties.

The 650 delegates pledged the district to "co-operate with interested individuals, groups and agencies to procure inexpensive water transportation." The resolution termed the canal "a necessity for our economy."

The proposed canal would open up low cost water transportation to Youngstown area steel mills by linking Lake Erie and the Ohio River with a system of locks and dams. The proposed canal would be linked to the Ohio via the Beaver River at Rochester.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I restore the almost obliterated lines and markings on a steel workshop ruler?

A. You can cover the surface of the rule thoroughly with some blue chalk, then rub off the surplus, and your division marks will show up clearly and distinctly. For a more permanent cure, paint the rule with red lead and allow it to dry for five or six hours, then dampen a soft cloth with kerosene and wipe off the surface coat.

Q. How can I remedy shoes, the toes of which bind the feet?

A. Wring a cloth out of hot water and lay it folded across the toes while the shoes are on the feet. The leather will expand and conform to the shape of the foot.

Q. How can I determine if the turkey is ready to take from the oven?

A. One method is to pierce the leg. If the juice is white, or pale pink, the turkey is ready.

Everyone, It Seems, Learning To Play Piano

CHICAGO (AP) — Everybody, it seems, is learning to play the piano.

The American Music Conference says there are more than 12,000,000 pianos in the United States, an increase of about 60 per cent during the past 20 years.

Marion Egbert, an educational consultant, says new teaching methods that emphasize enjoyment while learning are attracting scores of youngsters to the piano.

AMC says some 300,000 piano instructors are engaged in teaching more than four million school-age youngsters.

Plans for renting out a furnished home should begin long before you advertise for a tenant.

If the rental is for a short period, such as the summer, it is not to early to set wheels in motion.

When strangers take over your home, you should have an inventory of its contents, in the event of damage, fire or theft. It isn't easy. If you have been keeping house for any length of time, you have amassed a great many possessions.

Many homemakers are startled to find after an inventory that their fire insurance on household effects, doesn't even cover their investment in one room.

Kitchen appliances are expensive items often forgotten in establishing home assets. Ditto vacuum cleaner, waxing machine, sewing machine, hi-fi and television.

It is best to take inventory room by room. When you come across heirlooms put a star next to them.

Many home renters prefer to remove possessions they cherish, locking them in special areas in the cellar or attic. It may be an important move if the renters have small children.

Objects such as television sets, hi-fi and electrical appliances may not be handled with care, but at least they may be replaced, so the cost of probable damage may be figured in the rent so there will be no quibbling over small repairs.

A home assets inventory should include everything in the room — carpets, draperies, shades, paintings, lamps, wall panelling, and even wall paper.

A kitchen inventory should include every item down to the garlic press and asbestos gloves. Small items mount up.

Antiques and other collections should be listed according to their value when purchased. The present-day value may be determined in case of necessity. And list them individually.

List everything in the cellar, attic, garage. List your pets — cat, dog, parakeet, tropical fish. Porch furniture and lawn equipment are other potential fire losses.

Your wardrobe, especially furs, may prove to be a large item. You may not give a thought to the value of your linens, until you make your list.

They should be included too. After the list is prepared, keep copies in a safe place in the event of emergency. It will come in handy too, when you move.

Bathroom Offers Good Start For Modernization

A good place to start "Operation Home Improvement" is in the bathroom because the bathroom, more than any other room, indicates the age of the house.

With the possible exception of the kitchen, there is no other place in the home where such significant improvements in appearance and utility can be made at such moderate cost as in the bathroom, the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau points out.

Bathroom modernization starts with the fixtures. It is by the replacement of old-style fixtures with attractive and colorful new equipment that the most striking changes in bathrooms in middle aged houses can be effected.

Because fixtures are the key to any bathroom modernization project, it is well to start by discussing plans with a plumbing and heating contractor.

Being an expert on modernization, the contractor will be able to offer advice on the selection of fixtures and piping materials. He also will be in a position to make valuable suggestions on the arrangement of the fixtures for utmost utility and convenience.

The average American jobholder takes about 18 minutes to travel from his home to his place of business.

Tile Must Go Before Putting In Hardwood

AP Newsfeatures

Question: We have asphalt tile flooring throughout our house and we would like to replace it with hardwood floors. Is it necessary to rip up the tile before putting down the hardwood or could we put the flooring right on the tile?

Answer: The tiles will have to be removed. Even minute fragments of the tile must not be allowed to remain on the concrete subfloor.

We are assuming that the subfloor is concrete, since you said the tile is installed throughout the house. Before the hardwood flooring is put down, the surface of the concrete must be given a coat of asphalt primer, allowed to dry for 24 hours and then covered with a special asphalt mastic.

QUESTION: We are having trouble with the windows sweating in our kitchen. The water is running down the window panes, off the sills and onto the walls. How can this condition be corrected?

Answer: The sweating is caused by excessive humidity in the kitchen. An exhaust fan would appear to be the solution.

This not only will take out the high moisture content, but will remove grease and fumes caused by cooking. You'll probably find that the kitchen walls will stay cleaner a lot longer.

ANNOUNCING A MAJOR ADVANCE FOR HOME COMFORT AND HEALTH!
NEW Carrier AUTOMATIC air purifier

Latest product of Carrier research, this new Air Purifier sets new high standards of air purification, cleaning, odor removal and humidity control. Attached to your forced air furnace, it brings these four important benefits to every room in your home:
PURIFICATION—Pollen and other harmful elements are continuously removed from the air. This power to reduce contamination and thus purify the air has been well established by laboratory test.
CLEANLINESS—A unique filter, self-cleaning to maintain its high efficiency, makes homes cleaner, too. Less need to dust. Furnishings stay fresher longer, so cleaning bills go down.
ODOR REMOVAL—Cooking and other household odors are whisked away. Even air heavy with pipe, cigar and cigarette odor is sweet and fresh again in minutes.
HUMIDITY CONTROL—Moisture is fed into bone-dry warm air that irritates sinus and nasal passages.
This amazing Air Purifier can also be added to an air conditioning system. For details, come in or call. FU 5-1521

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Readers: Remember "Bitter 15," the lad who was paying his own school tuition and buying his own clothes?

I thought his parents had done a superb job of teaching him self-reliance and I said so. I also went to bat for him and suggested that his folks buy him a hi-fi set. Many readers agreed with me. Many did not. Nobody was neutral.

Here is an assortment of opinions:

CHICAGO: Have you lost your mind? I'm considering canceling my subscription unless you backtrack on your advice to "Bitter 15." His parents must be idiots. And so are you.—MARY S.

-:-

CLEVELAND: Here's a 21-gun salute from a clergyman who has done a great deal of counseling with teen-age boys. Few columnists would have had the courage to take the unpopular position and applaud the parents.

I have worked with delinquent boys for many years and not one was rasied in a home where he had to go to school, hold down a job and account for his money. Your stand was sound and I commend you heartily for it.—REV. R.B.

-:-

GRAND FORKS, N.D.: If the parents of "Bitter 15" bought him that hi-fi set he wants so badly when would he play it? In his sleep?—MRS. L. J.

-:-

TOLEDO: You said the teenagers were going to hate you for sticking up for the boy's parents. Well, you're right. They do. Why should teen-agers have to buy their own clothes? What are parents for anyway?—T.J. T.J.

LOUISVILLE, Ky.: You came through like a Kentucky thoroughbred with your reply to "Bitter 15." Our 16-year-old slob gets $5 a week spending money Monday. By Saturday he's broke. He thinks he's abused when he's asked to carry out the trash once in awhile.

His favorite line is "Why do I have to do this? I'm not hired help."

The parents of "Bitter 15" are raising a self-reliant, responsible young man. By comparison, our noodnik is a vegetable.—G.T.

-:-

SALT LAKE CITY: You're nuts. Did you say the parents were raising a wonderful boy? It sounds to me as if the boy is raising himself. What are they doing besides letting him live in the house and take his meals with them?—MAD.

-:-

SAN JOSE, Calif.: You're probably plenty busy ducking bricks because of your answer to "Bitter 15." Well, honey, here's a rose from San Jose.

Any boy who can sit down and account for $566.80 of the $623.60 he earned for the year is sure to be one whale of a success. The boy may feel his folk are hard on him now, but he'll thank them later.—CHEERING.

-:-

MARSHALLTOWN, Iowa: Your reply to "Bitter 15" was shocking. I think the parents should be reported to the juvenile authorities in their city.—FURIOUS.

-:-

NEW YORK: I would like to buy that remarkable 15-year-old boy the hi-fi set he wants so badly. Any youngster as good as he is deserves one. May I have his name and address?—MR. J.L.M.

Dear Mr. J.L.M.: Sorry, I never put one reader in touch with another. But thanks for your generous offer — and for making my point more eloquently than I ever could.

You have enormous respect and admiration for this young man and I do, too. How did the boy become self-reliant, responsible, self-disciplined? Was he born that way? No, he was not. He is the product of his parents' upbringing.

DISSILLUSIONED: She's old enough to lead her own life. I can't see how this affects you in any way whatever.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ceramic Firm Is Liquidating

The Ceramic Specialty Co., 444 W. 6th St., is being liquidated as the plant is being razed to make way for the California Hollow-W. 3rd St. freeway.

Charles McBride, president, said the Board of Directors voted to liquidate rather than attempt to relocate.

Various sites were investigated for a proposed new building but the costs were too high, McBride said.

The business was organized in 1933. McBride said some 70 to 80 employes will be out of jobs. The firm has employed well over 100 in past years but the present staff is about 80, he said.

A committee of the Democratic Boosters Club met Tuesday with McBride in an attempt to keep the industry in the area. They reported at a meeting of the Club Friday night in Council Chambers at City Hall.

Quake Hits Japan

KAGOSHIMA, Japan (AP)—An 8-year-old boy was killed and six persons were injured today in an earthquake that rocked the eastern coast of Kyushu and other parts of southern Japan.

Small Building Leveled By Blaze At Substation

A one-room frame building at Substation was destroyed completely in a wind-whipped fire about 9 p. m. Saturday.

Owned by Frank Robinson of East Liverpool, the building was used for sleeping purposes by the Fred Howe family, which occupies an adjoining home. An overheated coal stove was blamed for the fire, Glenmoor Chief Robert Jones said.

Fourteen Glenmoor firemen responded and the Calcutta volunteer department sent two trucks to assist. The building was located in the area between the intersection of the Y. & O. Rd. and Route 30 at Substation.

Rites Scheduled For Prelate, 66

WHEELING (AP) — The body of the Most Rev. Thomas J. McDonnell, coadjutor bishop of the Wheeling Diocese, was returned to Wheeling Sunday night for the solemn funeral rites of the Roman Catholic Church.

The 66-year-old prelate died in St. Mary's Hospital in Huntington Saturday night about 24 hours after he was stricken while eating dinner with priests and other friends.

Bishop McDonnell's death was attributed to an acute virus infection. Associates said he had been in poor health for about six months and had been suffering from an anemic condition.

The funeral services will start at 10 a. m. Thursday in St. Joseph's Cathedral. Archbishop John J. Swint will be the celebrant at a pontifical requiem mass which will begin about 10:30 a. m.

The body of the bishop will be taken from a funeral home to the cathedral tomorrow and will lie in state until the services.

Bishop McDonnell was installed in May, 1951, as the first coadjutor bishop of the Wheeling Diocese and was next in line of succession to Archbishop Swint. The bishop was a native of New York and was ordained as a priest Dec. 20, 1919.

He spent many years in mission work, serving as national director of the Society of the Propagation of the Faith from 1936 to 1950.

Ike Disclaims 'Criticism' Of Kennedy Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower Sunday night disavowed as inaccurate and regrettable a fellow Republican's statement that Eisenhower is critical of the direction President Kennedy's administration is taking.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., talked with Eisenhower for an hour recently at his Palm Springs, Calif., vacation spot. In a news letter he sends to constituents, Mundt Sunday gave his impression of Eisenhower's views.

"He is critical of the tendencies thus far evidenced by the JFK administration—too much left of center; too partisan; too slanted toward programs supported by union bossism," Mundt wrote.

Mincing no words, Eisenhower issued this disavowal through a secretary:

"Sen. Mundt's statement as reported to me Sunday evening does not accurately describe either my views on public affairs or my personal plans, and I very much regret its issuance.

"The senator evidently intended to repeat in detail our private and purely social conversation, but his recollection of the many subjects mentioned and his interpretations differ markedly from my own.

"Especially I regret the assessment attributed to me of the performance of my successor and his administration, on which subject I have formed no judgment.

"Moreover, I have always directed my public criticism to ideas and programs—never to individuals. While in that conversation and on prior occasion I have expressed opposition to certain of the pledges in the platform adopted in Los Angeles, I have likewise expressed the earnest hope of every loyal American that the future actions of the new administration will promote the over-all welfare of the United States."

Mundt could not be reached Sunday night for comment on Eisenhower's statement.

The Mundt news letter also said Eisenhower was disturbed by Kennedy's statements that the economy is in trouble.

Icy Pavement Cited In Crash

Snow-slicked streets were blamed for a collision late Saturday night on Pennsylvania Ave. at Lee St. that damaged two autos—one of four weekend mishaps—police reported.

The mishap damaged a 1956 sedan driven by William Price Jr., 25, of Nagley R. D. 1 and a 1955 sedan operated by Raymond Robinson, 36, of 1723 Globe St.

Price told police he was headed east on Pennsylvania Ave. and making a left turn onto Lee St. when his car was hit from the rear by Robinson's, turning it around and causing it to strike a pole on the M. & A. Used Car Lot.

Robinson said he saw Price slow and started to pass him on the left. He said he applied his brakes, but his car skidded on icy pavement and hit the Price auto. There was damage to the left rear fender, trunk and front fender of Price's car and the right front of Robinson's, police said.

A crash at St. Clair and Jennings Ave. at 6:10 p.m. Saturday damaged a 1957 four-door sedan driven by William Brindley, 43, of 1593 Anderson Rlvd. and a 1960 sedan operated by Wilbur Brooks, 22, of New Cumberland R. D. 2, police said.

Brindley was headed south on St. Clair and turning into Jennings and Brooks was driving north on St. Clair, officers said. There was damage to the front of each car.

A 1959 four-door sedan driven by Allen F. Fowler, 19, of 318 Rural Ln. and a 1957 pickup truck operated by Willis Friley, 33, of Chester R. D. 1 were damaged in a mishap Saturday at 9:40 a.m. on E. 4th St. at Union St. and Broadway, police said. There was damage to the left front of each vehicle, officers said.

Wayne Barnett, 1201 Dodge St., told police the left front fender of his 1956 sedan was damaged by a hit-skip vehicle Saturday about 2:40 p.m. while it was parked on Dresden Ave. near Rural Ln.

Mary Ellen Stoffel Crowned At School 'Sweetheart' Dance

Miss Mary Ellen Stoffel was crowned queen at the annual "Sweetheart Dance" of the Key Club Saturday night at Memorial Auditorium.

Gary Hicks, president, made the presentation of a bracelet and orchid corsage. Her attendants were Misses Susan Horger, Sondra Osborne, Susan Shaffer and Frances Leon.

The candidates were chosen by members of the senior class, following which Key Club members balloted secretly for the queen.

The Del Sinchak Orchestra of Youngstown provided the music, along with the "El Daniels" and the "Symphonics," high school groups. Dave Lampman was general chairman. Refreshments were served.

Plans for the Ohio District convention were discussed at the business meeting held Friday. Larry White was named chairman for the event March 10-11 at Columbus.

Other tentative plans outlined were the "Teacher of the Year Award" to be presented at the teacher appreciation assembly. This project will be in charge of Jack Alpern and Arthur Turner.

A Key Club assembly will be held at the high school sometime in March to acquaint the student body with the club's purpose. Arthur Stacey was named chairman.

Judson English thanked the group for the flag which was presented recently to the Kiwanis Club. Other sponsors, who were guests, were Harold Allison along with Merrill Hall and I. J. Vorndran, advisors.

New Church Women's Group At Chester Chooses Officers

Officers were elected and installed at the initial meeting of the Chester Council of United Church Women Sunday afternoon at the Westminster United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. R. M. McFarland of the host church was elected president; Mrs. Standish Miller of the First Methodist Church, vice-president; Mrs. Ralph Carpenter of the Church of the Nazarene, secretary, and Mrs. Ray Huff of the First Christian Church, treasurer.

The slate of officers was presented by Mrs. Jess Oyster, chairman of the nominating committee.

Four chairmen also were named. They include Mrs. Frank Hutton of the First Methodist Church, chairman of the Christian world missions; Mrs. Harold Staley of the Christian Church, social relations; Mrs. Frank Richmond of the First United Presbyterian Church, Christian world relations, and Mrs. Donald Vogel of the First United Presbyterian Church, leadership education.

Mrs. Henry S. Barth of Wheeling, president of the Northwestern Area of United Church Women of West Virginia, was guest speaker and also installed the officers.

Mrs. Robert Weisner, also of Wheeling, chairman of the Northwestern Area, conducted the election.

Mrs. Barth explained the purpose and work of the council.

The meeting opened with devotions by Mrs. Paul Dippolito of the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Vogel presented a short form of by-laws which was accepted by the group.

An offering was received for the purpose of purchasing literature for the group in order to train the officers.

There will be two more meetings this year, including May 5, when the group will observe Fellowship Day. The place and time will be announced later.

Refreshments were served 45 by the fellowship committee of the host church.

Church Youth Groups Entertain Students

The Youth Fellowship and the high school group of the First United Presbyterian Church entertained the seventh and eighth grade groups Friday evening at the church.

A Moody film, "Science and Faith," was screened, followed by a discussion led by Hugh Barbour.

Games were enjoyed with Pete Russell general chairman.

Business was conducted by Alex Davison Jr., vice president, in the absence of Linda VanDyne.

The next meeting is March 24 and the committee will include Bill Bigelow, Mary Lou Gerber and Bob Kontnier.

Wellsville-Big Red Clash Opens Sectional Here Tonight

DISTRICT CHAMPS. Joe Jackson (left) and Dom Danzo came home with championship crowns and qualified for a berth in the state wrestling tournament at Columbus next weekend. Jackson captured the 133-pound class and Danzo was the 103-pound winner in Saturday's District tournament at Bridgeport.

Toronto, Wintersville In 2nd Game

The Class "AA" Sectional Basketball tournament gets off to a fast start tonight with a two-game card featuring the match between Wellsville and Steubenville Big Red.

A full house is expected at the Memorial Auditorium tonight, mainly to see the opener at 7 when Big Red begins defense of its Sectional crown, meeting second-seeded Wellsville. A year ago, Big Red beat the Tigers for the title.

The second game, which will get underway about 8:30, pits Toronto against Wintersville.

Tonight is the only time two games will be played in one night. Single games are set the rest of the week. Tuesday, Steubenville Central will play Jefferson Union, while the winners of tonight's games clash on Wednesday.

East Liverpool, which was top-seeded drew a bye in the first round and won't see action until Thursday, meeting the winner of the Steubenville Central-JU game. All games after tonight will begin at 8.

The Sectional championship contest will be played Saturday at 8 p.m., with the teams resting Friday.

The tourney shapes up as a three-way race among East Liverpool, Wellsville and Big Red.

Wellsville enters tonight's game with a 10-7 record, losing its last start of the regular season to East Liverpool, 65-63. The Tigers will be depending on the scoring of their all-Ohio candidate, Bob Kiggans, a 6-foot-4 senior who has tossed 345 points during the regular season.

Kiggans, who broke into the starting lineup as a freshman four years ago, is averaging 20 points a game.

Other starters for Wellsville will be Phil and Steve Baldwin, Roger Ours and Ron Ferguson, a 6-foot-4 senior.

Meanwhile, Steubenville under its new coach, Walt Owens, stamped itself as the team to watch after pulling one of the biggest upsets in the Ohio Valley by nipping Martins Ferry, 58-56. It marked the first time this season that Martins Ferry had lost to an Ohio team.

Steubenville finished the regular season with a 9-9 record.

Toronto is favored in the second game tonight. Sporting close to a .500 record, the Red Knights tackle Wintersville, which hasn't won a game this season.

A few tickets will be sold at the door for tonight's doubleheader. Tickets for the East Liverpool contest Thursday are on sale at Reese's Jewelers on E. 5th St.

Yanks Put Mantle In Leader's Spot

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

New York Yankee slugger Mickey Mantle, 29, trotted out for a spring training workout today faced with the new challenge of becoming the American League champions' "take-charge guy" after a 10-year baseball career in which he has shunned the spotlight.

The reticent center fielder, who hit .275 while smashing 40 home runs and collecting 94 runs batted in last season, was thrust squarely into the position Sunday when new manager Ralph Houk brought up the subject.

"Mantle could be the leader of the ball club," Houk said. "He has reached the point in his career where that's possible. I'm going to try to bring that out in him. I talked with him when he signed last month and I'll talk to him some more."

Houk said that didn't mean the switch-hitting outfielder would officially be designated captain, a post the Yankees have kept vacant since the late Lou Gehrig retired.

Manager Danny Murtaugh of the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates faced the day with all hands on deck and the annual contract squabbling ended by the signing of first baseman Dick Stuart.

Also agreeing to terms as the list of unsigned major leaguers continued to dwindle was little Nellie Fox, Chicago White Sox second baseman.

At Vero Beach, Fla., the Dodgers' new addition became one of the first to get the heave-ho when minor league umpire Jim Duncan of the Midwest League thumbed him out for heckling from the coaches' box.

Jefferson Finals Reset; Sectional Opens Tuesday

A rock slide on Route 7, a flooded underpass at Mingo Junction and general hazardous road conditions Saturday night forced postponement of the Jefferson County Class "A" finals.

C. P. Henderson, principal at Stanton Local High School and tournament director, said the finals have been set for Thursday at 8:15 on the Brilliant High floor. A consolation game will be played at 7.

Both county finalists, Stanton Local and Springfield, automatically advance to the Sectional tournament, also to be played at Brilliant.

In drawings held Sunday at Brilliant, Stanton Local and Tiltonsville, both top seeded in the Sectional, drew first-round byes.

The tournament will get under way Tuesday night with Hopedale and Springfield clashing in the first game at 7, while Powhatten and Conotton Valley meet at 8:15.

Stanton will play in the County finals Thursday then meet the winner of the Hopedale - Springfield contest Saturday at 7 p. m. in the semi-finals of the Sectional tourney.

Tiltonsville will play the winner of the Powhatten-Connotton Valley game Saturday at 8:15.

Two teams will advance to the District tournament at Dennison.

Danzo, Jackson Qualify For State Mat Tourney; Riders Win At District

East Liverpool placed two wrestlers in the state tournament next weekend at Columbus and finished third as a team in the District mat tourney held Saturday at Bridgeport High School.

Dom Danzo qualified for the state meet in the 103-pound class while teammate Joe Jackson will be East Liverpool's representative at 133 pounds.

Martins Ferry successfully defended its district title, winning the 1961 version with 101 points. Bridgeport was second with 81 points, while Coach Rey Peduzzi's Potters scored 60 points to finish third. Seven teams were entered in the district meet.

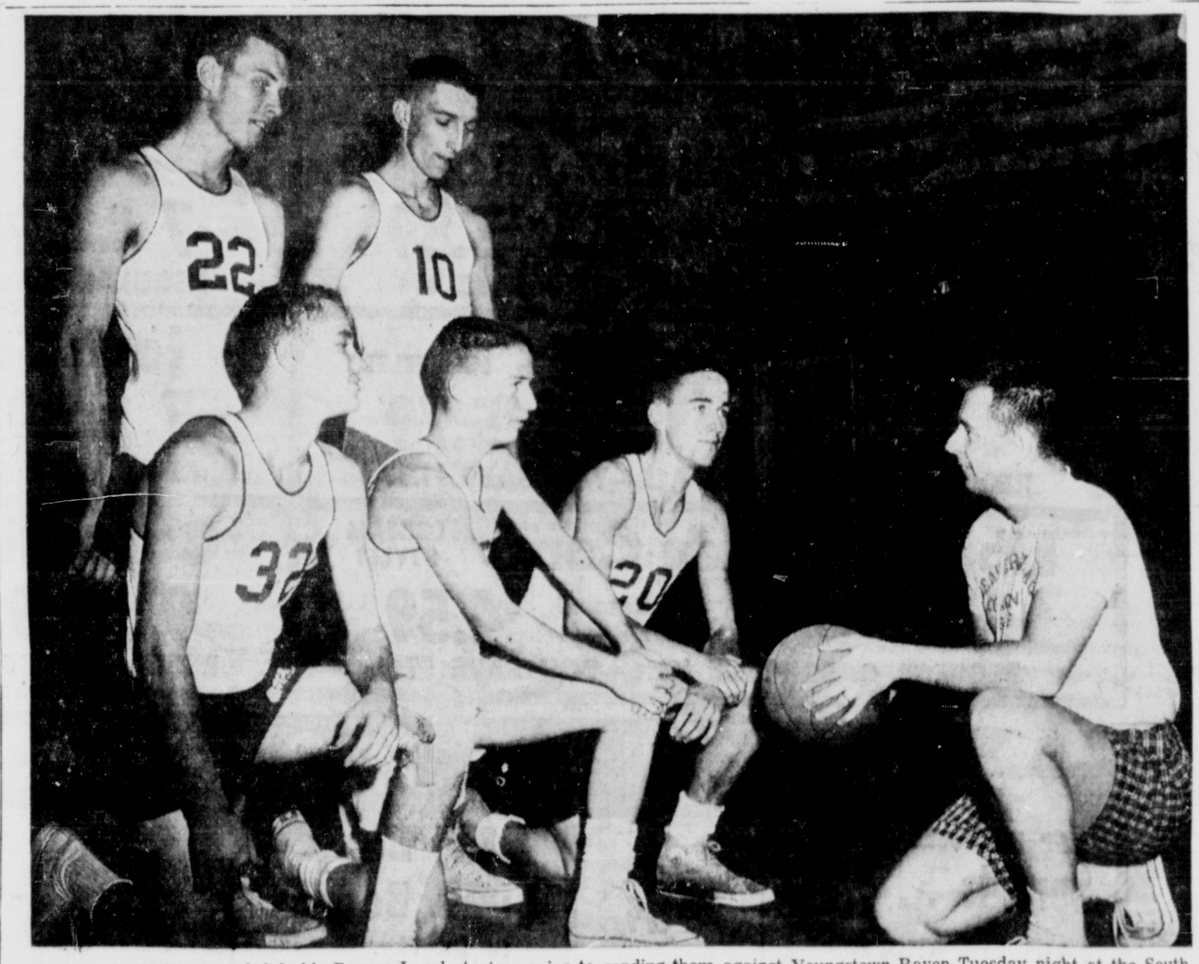

Danzo gained the 103-pound title by defeating Clark of Bridgeport, 3-0, in the semi-finals, then tripped Jackson of Martins Ferry, 3-2, in the finals. The win over Jackson was one of revenge for Danzo, who was beaten in the regular season by the Martins Ferry wrestler.

Jackson pinned his opponent in the semi-finals, then scored a 7-3 victory over Deaton of Martins Ferry in the championship bout.

The Potters had four wrestlers going into the finals. John Goempel, East Liverpool's 127-pounder, was pinned by Douglas of Martins Ferry in the finals and Glenn Mays (154) dropped a 5-4 decision to Yeager of Martins Ferry.

Four other Potter grapplers finished among the four places. Frank Danzo (120), Tom Czech (140) and Bob Parsons (165) all took third place, while Gene Wolfe (175) came in fourth.

Peduzzi will accompany Danzo and Jackson to the state tourney Friday and Saturday at St. John's arena in Columbus.

Cumberland Cops District

New Cumberland's next stop along the tournament trail will be Friday night at Moundsville.

The Blue Raiders earned the trip to the Region 1 tourney by capturing the District 1 crown Saturday night with a 58-50 victory over Bethany on the Follansbee High School court.

Coach John Kuzio attended drawings Sunday at Moundsville and his team is paired with Hundred in a 8 p. m. battle Friday at the Moundsville Fieldhouse. In the other game Paden City, the defending state Class "A" champion, will meet Williamstown at 8:15.

Finals are scheduled Saturday night at 8. Paden City comes into the tournament with a 21-1 record. Hundred made its way into the Region 1 tourney by nipping Sherrard, 44-42, Saturday night.

The Raiders remained a red hot shooting club Saturday by hitting 53 per cent.

New Cumberland was beaten twice by Bethany in the regular season, but made up for the two losses with the big victory Saturday.

It marked the second district title in three years for the Raiders, who also took honors in 1959.

New Cumberland's latest victory followed the same pattern as its first tourney win over Newell Thursday.

The Raiders jumped off to an 8-0 lead in the first period, led 31-23 at halftime and 47-31 after three periods.

Bethany double - teamed New Cumberland's smooth-working pivot star Charlie Miller and held him to seven points. But while the Bisons worried about Miller, two other Raiders were busy pumping in the points.

John Kiger sparked the attack with 20, mostly on his deadly jump shot, and Tom Hale scored 16. Ron Haynes was in the double figures with 10.

Pyle and Riggle with 12 and 11 points, respectively, were high for Bethany.

New Cumberland placed Miller and Hale on the all-tourney team, which also included Mick Staley of Newell, White and Bethany and Kennedy of West Liberty.

NEW CUMBERLAND—58
Hale 6-4-4-16; Kiger 8-4-5-20; Katzenmyer 0-0-2-2; Haynes 1-8-10-10; Everly 2-1-4-5; Miller 2-3-67; Nardo 0-0-1-0.

Soviet High Jump Star In Farewell Appearance

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Valery Brumel, the Soviet Union's matinee idol high jumper, goes for broke in the Knights of Columbus games here Friday night—his farewell appearance for the winter.

His best to date is 7-4½ in Leningrad just a month ago. When he came here there was some doubt that he would put up any competition for John Thomas. Valery would be in a strange country, the crowds would be against him, the floor would be unfamiliar and the arena would be foreign to him.

But as it turned out, Thomas, 19, Boston University junior, has been the disappointment. Twice the pair have met and twice Brumel has won. Saturday night in the National AAU championships, he cleared 7-2. Thomas made 7 feet even.

Brumel thus became the first Soviet athlete to win a U.S. national indoor title.

Just a hint of an incident almost occurred during the broad jump in the AAU meet. Ralph Boston of Tennessee State, who holds every record in the books, shattered his own week-old pending record with a leap of 26-6¼—4½ inches farther than last week's mark.

He did it with his back to the wall, too. It was on his last jump and Igor Ter-Ovanesyan of the Soviet Union was leading with 26 feet even. That made Igor the second man ever to hit 26 feet indoors.

But after Boston made his record jump, "Ter," as Boston calls him, had another try.

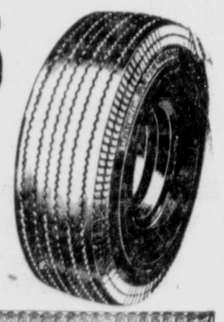

Over he went and it was a good one, but how good no one will ever know. He fouled and the officials refused to measure it.

Grace United, Boyce Lead In Church Loop

The scene was still the same in the YMCA-Church League. Grace United and Boyce Methodist continued to lead their respective divisions after action Saturday night.

Boyce Methodist made it 7-0 in the Inter-collegiate Division with a 32-10 victory over Trinity United Presbyterian. Evans tossed in 14 and Null 12 to pace the leaders. Hall and Lawrence had four points each for the losers.

Grace U. P. knocked First Methodist from the ranks of the undefeated in the Collegiate Division with a 19-9 victory. Dennis Horger's nine points paved the way for the Grace five. Scott had seven markers for First Methodist.

In other contests, Wellsville Central Methodist paced by Milligan's 18 points defeated Orchard Grove Methodist, 28-10. Cunningham's six points topped the losers.

First Nazarene claimed a 17-11 victory over First United Presbyterian with Rice's six points sparking the winners. Mike McVay hooped seven for First United.

Massey tallied 18 points and led a 28-7 assault on Calvary Methodist as St. Stephen's picked up its fifth win in six games.

Graham scored eight points to lead Chester Christian in a 14-5 win over Chester Methodist. Forsythe had four points for the losers.

With Kinsey scoring 13 points, First Church of Christ took a 30-9 decision from Newell Presbyterian. Raimond scored four points for the Newell five.

Oakland Free Methodist was a 15-10 winner over Second Presbyterian. Lane led the attack with 10 markers. Goodballet and Maltarich scored four each for Second Presbyterian.

Palmer Wins Baton Rouge Golf Tourney

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, who became the only triple winner on the winter tour with his repeat performance in the $20,000 Baton Rouge Open, today headed for the richer fields of the $30,000 New Orleans Open tourney which opens Thursday.

He was tied with Jackie Burke of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., on the opening day, ahead by one stroke after the second round, by two strokes after three rounds and by seven at the finish on the strength of a 4-under-par 66 for a 266 total.

The victory earned Palmer $2,800 and boosted his winnings on the tour to $15,225.

Wes Ellis Jr., of West Caldwell, N.J., turned a 69 over the 6,700-yard Sherwood Forest Country Club course for a 273 total worth $1,900.

There was a three-way tie for third place at 274 among Johnny Pott of Shreveport, La., Buster Cupit of Fort Smith, Ark., and Gary Player of Langhorne, Pa. Pott earned $1,233.34; Cupit and Player each won $1,233.23.

Middle Age Begins At 26, Professor Says

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — A University of Illinois professor says middle age begins at 26.

Thomas H. Cureton Jr., says that's the age at which the powers of the body start to decline if a person allows himself to go on living as usual.

Dr. Cureton, Jr., an instructor of physical education for men, said the youthful period is over at 14 for boys and 17 for girls, followed by adulthood which is a leveling off period.

He recommends that persons develop fitness programs to fill the demands of their life and enjoyment.

These Ants Lacking Taste Discrimination

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The trouble with ants in avocado orchards is that they lack taste discrimination.

They eat the eggs of both beneficial and harmful insects, explains C. D. Gustafson, University of California Agricultural Extension Service advisor.

The harmful insects being more numerous to start with, thus gain ascendance as the beneficial ones, which normally keep them in check, are eliminated by the ants.

You can't control avocado pests under such conditions, Gustafson advised. You have to do away with the ants first.

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Homer Blincoe enjoys all the services provided by the city of Dunedin, but pays none of the city's taxes.

His house is surrounded by the city, but is not a part of it.

Through oversight, the lot on which Blincoe's house is built was not included when the city annexed the suburban area in which he lives.

Niagara Shares Cage Spotlight With OSU After Topping Bonnies

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ohio State still is the No. 1 team in the nation, and no doubt about it. But the Buckeyes have to give up some of the spotlight to Niagara, the No. 1 team of the moment in college basketball.

It was the Purple Eagles, coached by nice guy Taps Gallagher, who snubbed a jinx and surely drew a nod from the National Invitation Tournament by upsetting second-ranked, NCAA-bound St. Bonaventure 87-77 Saturday.

The Bonnies had won 12 in a row and had lost only to unbeaten Ohio State, the weekly unanimous first-place choice in The Associated Press poll, by a mere two points, 84-82, in the Holiday Festival in New York.

Not only did Niagara whomp the Bonnies by 10 points, but they did it in St. Bonaventure's cosy home court at Olean, N.Y.—where the Bonnies had put away 99 consecutive victories. St. Bonaventure hadn't lost in 13 years and 13 days at home, and it was the same Gallagher and Niagara that last came out a winner there.

With Niagara (15-4) waiting at the telephone for a call from the NIT to fill one of the four berths remaining in the March 16-25 tourney at Madison Square Garden, the post-season tournament picture is much closer to completion.

Temple (18-5) agreed to its fourth trip to the NIT Sunday, after beating Villanova 79-69 in a Philadelphia doubleheader that also sent St. Joseph's into the NCAA as Middle Atlantic Conference representative after the Hawks had downed Muhlenberg 81-72.

Kansas State (18-4) of the Big Eight and Texas Tech (14-8) of the Southwest can nail automatic NCAA tickets tonight. And by week's end, Ohio State (22-0) should have stretched the nation's longest streak through 28 games for another Big Ten title and a long ago conceded right to defend its NCAA title.

The week also will determine NCAA entries from the Atlantic Coast, Southern, Skyline and Yankee conferences, and perhaps the Missouri Valley, Border, Ohio Valley and Southeastern as well.

Ohio State won its 27th in a row with a hot-shooting (.500) 97-74 breeze at Wisconsin, gaining position to nail the Big Ten title in a game against Michigan State this Saturday.

Kansas State can clinch in the Big Eight tonight by winning at Nebraska against the club that upset Kansas 69-68 Saturday. Kansas State whipped Missouri 91-71 Saturday and the eighth-ranked Wildcats need win just one of their three remaining games to cinch the NCAA berth over third-place Iowa State or fourth-place Colorado. Second-place Kansas can tie for the title, but is banned from tourney play because of NCAA probation.

Texas Tech can make it by beating sixth place Rice tonight in the Southwest.

The Missouri Valley and the Southeastern races offer the brightest scraps for tournament berths. Third-ranked Cincinnati, gunning for a fourth straight Mo-Valley title, clinched no worse than a tie as the Bearcats won their 16th in a row with a 73-43 job on North Texas State in their final conference game. Second-place Bradley, which got past Tulsa 64-62, can force a playoff by winning at home against St. Louis Saturday. The winner goes to the NCAA, the runner-up — and possibly St. Louis, too—goes to the NIT.

In the SEC, Mississippi State is the leader at 10-2, after slipping past LSU 56-54, but because of the segregation issue will pass up the NCAA. That leaves it to Kentucky, Florida or Vanderbilt, all tied for second at 8-4.

The ACC and Southern stage tournaments to determine their Seventh-ranked North Carolina, which knocked off sixth-ranked Duke 69-66 in overtime Saturday, finished the regular schedule on top in the ACC, but will pass up the tournament, which begins at Raleigh, N.C., Thursday, because of NCAA probationary action. Ninth-ranked West Virginia is the No. 1 seed in the Southern Tournament opening at Richmond Thursday after winning its 12th in a row, 104-90 over George Washington.

60 Attend Fete Saturday For Tiger Cagers

About 60 attended a spaghetti dinner Saturday night in Wellsville American Legion Post 70, held by the Curbstone Coaches Association for Wellsville High's varsity and reserve basketball performers.

The Curbstoners announced that life memberships have been awarded to Dr. D. Y. Campbell, who accompanies Tiger football and basketball squads, and William Faloon of Faloon's Market, for aiding Wellsville athletics.

William Daugherty served as master of ceremonies. He introduced William Powell, past president, who announced the names of the life membership recipients, and Melford Gitschier and Ralph Donaldson.

Coach Jack McDevitt introduced members of his varsity and reserve squads. Emil Cataldo was chef. Dinner was served by Mrs. William Powell, Mrs. William Boyce, Mrs. Sid Martin, Mrs. Lindy Boyce and Mrs. David Eaton.

Ed Self, Curbstoners president, was unable to attend because of illness. The Curbstoners have purchased about $80 in tickets for the Sectional tournament which opens tonight.

U.S. Plans '62 Shots At Moon, Mars, Venus

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — U. S. space scientists plan an all-out assault on the moon, Mars and Venus starting in 1962 with a series of spacecraft bearing the names Ranger, Surveyor, Prospector, Mariner and Voyager.

Ranger will be a lunar impacter launched by an Atlas-Agena B. Surveyor will be a lunar soft-lander launched by a Centaur rocket. Prospector will be launched by a Saturn to land a mobile laboratory on the moon with a traveling radius of 50 miles.

Mariner will include several plan etary probes launched by Atlas-Agena B. to the vicinity of Mars and Venus. Voyager will be a series of later planetary probes, launched by Saturn rockets to orbit Mars and Venus and probably to eject instrumented capsules for landing on these planets.

THE REVIEW

Is Francona Ready To Fill Cleveland's Cleanup Spot?

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Is Tito Francona an established hitter, ready to take his place as Cleveland's big slugger and perhaps its cleanup hitter?

"I feel I proved myself last year," Francona said Sunday. "Everybody was watching me to see how I'd do. I felt the pressure. I think I've established myself now."

For those who came in late, Francona was Cleveland's "Man of the Year" in 1959 when he startled American League pitchers with a .363 batting average. Prior to that, he had never hit higher than .258.

Many observers said the 1959 season was a fluke and that Francona was lucky.

Francona answered the critics with a respectable .292 average. He hit 17 home runs and knocked in 79 runs.

He had whacked 20 home runs and had the same amount of runs batted in during 1959. That first season, however, he played in 25 less games.

Francona, 27, says there was another factor in his decline last season, although he is sensitive in discussing it. He reports he suffered from pulled leg muscles during part of last year.

"I wouldn't want people to get the idea that I've got leg trouble," Francona said. "I don't want to get traded. I want to stay with this club."

The Indians' left fielder came to spring training this year in high spirits. He feels the Indians can win the pennant.

"You got to be foolish to predict a .300 season," he says. "Heck, I might hit that. I might hit .363 again. I'm gonna try to hit 1.000. All I can say is that I feel real good, that I think I'm a hitter and that I'm glad I'm young and playing major league ball."

Kasco May Be Answer For Reds At 3rd Base

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Eddie Kasko, who showed the Cincinnati Reds he could hit if he played regularly, may hold the key to the team's keystone question mark.

Kasko turned up at spring training a day early Sunday, just two pounds over his best playing weight of 195 pounds.

And on the muddle over where he'll play, Eddie said, "I'll play wherever Hutch thinks I can help the club most, but if I had a preference playing short or second base, it would be the former."

Eddie's reluctance about the second base post is understandable since that was his job last Aug. 14 when he ran into grief in a game against Los Angeles.

A Dodger injured Kasko with a slide and kept the hot-hitting infielder sidelined until Sept. 13.

But for the games he played Eddie stacked up a .292 batting average, second best on the Reds to Frank Robinson's .297, and drove in 51 runs.

Manager Fred Hutchinson said he hasn't decided where Eddie will play.

"I know Eddie can play third or short with the best of them," he said, "but I also want to see how he can play second base.

"I talked with Eddie about it recently and he said he was willing to give it a whirl.

"If Eddie doesn't make it at second, there's Jim Baumer, the kid we drafted from the Salt Lake City club. Scouting reports on him are excellent."

The Reds' full squad was due to report today to open spring drills. The pitchers have had nearly a week of conditioning already.

Nehru Shows Backing For U.N. Congo Policy

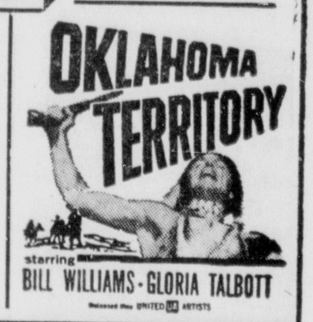

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru said today Soviet Premier Khrushchev's drive to reorganize the United Nations must take second place to solving the Congo crisis and making progress on disarmament.

Nehru's statement to Parliament seemed to make it clear that at least for the time being he will not support the Soviet campaign to replace Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold with a three-man committee.

SEE THE NEW VALUE-PACKED COMET... THE BETTER COMPACT CAR
PRICED UP TO $331 BELOW OTHER COMPACTS
HIGH RESALE VALUE UP TO '546 MORE THAN OTHER COMPACTS
FAMILY-CAR SIZE FINE-CAR RIDE

Comet is one of the least expensive compacts you can own! These are the facts. Comet costs less when you buy—up to $331* below other compacts. Comet gives you high resale value—up to $546† more than other compacts. That's why it pays to own a Comet. But that's not all. Comet has fine-car features, too.

It's the first family-size compact Longer wheelbase—up to 7.5" longer than other compacts—means more Comet room, not only in pleasurable comfort-for-six seating but in over 28 cu. ft. of trunk space—up to twice as much as other compacts.

Comet's big-car ride is the comfort difference Extra length also contributes to Comet's road-leveling ride. The refined new suspension and easier-action springs give Comet a better ride than many standard cars. And you'll find Comet turns, parks and handles almost as easily as a tricycle!

Talk about economy and you're talking Comet To save on gas, choose either of Comet's two thrifty engines. You change Comet oil only every 4,000 miles, get 10% better tire mileage, save on licenses and insurance. And Comet's super-enamel finish won't cost you a cent for waxing—never needs it!

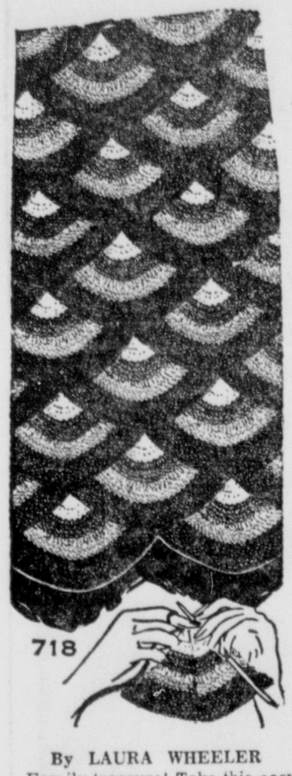

Both two- and four-door sedans and wagons Take your pick from sedans or wagons. Comet wagons have up to 30% more cargo space behind the front seat than most other compacts, plus a convenient roll-down rear window.

Lasting quality, even where it doesn't show Comet is quality, inside and out. Unit-built to keep quiet, stay sturdy and durable, Comet also has rustproofed vital underbody parts, complete soundproofing and an aluminized muffler.

Castro Troops Await Final Drive On Rebels

HAVANA (AP) — Troops surrounding rebels in the Escambray Mountains of central Cuba were reported awaiting a signal from Prime Minister Fidel Castro today to begin a cleanup drive on the insurgents.

An unofficial report from a usually reliable source in Cienfuegos said up to 900 rebels have been captured, some in battle and others without a fight. Castro's troops have ringed the mountains in an effort to starve out the rebels, estimated at up to 3,000.

Williams Restates U.S. Stand On Congo Action

DAR-ES-SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP) — G. Mennen Williams today reaffirmed Washington's stand against unilateral action in the Congo.

The U.S. assistant secretary of state for African affairs told reporters as he prepared to fly to Leopoldville that his country would like to see a Congo solution reached through the United Nations.

Williams spent 60 hours here and in Zanzibar.

Ohio Senate Sets 'Showdown' Vote For Jobless Help

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two Senate hearings only 13 hours apart—one tonight, the other Tuesday morning—will send the controversial jobless benefits extender bill to the Senate floor for a showdown.

Republican leaders plan to reinsert an emergency clause in the House-approved bill, the same clause which failed to stand up last week in the House on a strict party vote—all the Republicans for it and all the Democrats against.

Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem, R-Athens, expects the showdown vote Thursday.

The battle over the benefits extender bill continues to hold the center of the legislative stage as the lawmakers return to Columbus tonight for their ninth work week.

Republicans expressed confidence last week that Democrats, by the time they return to the legislative halls tonight, will have talked with their constituents back home and will be persuaded that they took the wrong tack when they voted solidly to knock the emergency clause out of the unemployment benefits extender bill.

Whether GOP confidence is misplaced remains, of course, to be seen.

Organized labor objects violently to the Republican-sponsored bill, not because of the benefits extender, which the Ohio AFL-CIO wants badly in view of mounting unemployment, but because of other permanent changes the Republican measure would make in the unemployment compensation law.

Student In Dean's List; Sister Enters Sorority

An East Liverpool student has been recognized for his scholastic standing and his sister has become a sorority member in another school.

William J. Ashbaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ashbaugh of Maple Dr., Calcutta was named to the dean's list for the winter quarter at Baldwin- Wallace College in Berea, where he is a senior majoring in economics. His wife, the former Miss Nancy Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Moore of North St., is a junior majoring in home economics. He is a 1957 graduate of East Liverpool High School.

Miss Debbie Ashbaugh, was initiated into Delta Delta Delta social sorority at Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware, where she is a freshman majoring in mathematics. She was graduated from Beaver Local High School in 1960.

County Health Department's Staff Smallest

LISBON — Columbiana County has the minimum staffed full-time health department in Ohio, according to the annual report of the Board of Health.

The field staff consists of a full-time doctor, one sanitarian, one nurse and a plumbing inspector to serve a population of 58,400.

The recommended cost for health services in a district with a population of 50,000 is $108,000, if suggested minimum personnel is employed at average salaries, according to the Ohio Legislative Service Commission's report.

The 1960 expenditures authorized by the Columbiana County Health department was $42,126.35.

Actual receipts for 1960 list $25,000, federal grant-in-aid, $4,500; state subsidy, $1,898; sanitation fees, $9,382.50; restaurant fees, $2,590, and fines, $25, for a total of $43,395.50.

Specific needs of the county are additional sanitation checks and the hiring of another sanitarian, according to Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner.

An additional nurse also is needed to help meet the department's responsibility in communicable disease control.

The report points out that progress has been made towards correction of the county's major health problems. Some of the county's bigger garbage dumps have been closed and others are in the process of being abolished, and it is expected that much-needed sewer districts will be finally established in 1961.

Inspection services have been improved, the County Home has been under constant surveillance and some improvements have been made, the school health program has fully met its objectives, the communicable disease program has not been neglected although it is handicapped by lack of staff personnel, Dr. Palmer said.

A survey was made during 1960 of township and municipal dumps. Four were closed and replaced by approved land-fill dumps. In some instances, however, the Board of Health found that Municipal Councils have failed to enact ordinances regulating collection and maintenance operation of the new dumps. There were 85 dump investigations made by the department last year.

"Columbiana County is far behind its neighbors in public health since it had no sanitary nor health regulations prior to 1947, and has now considerable 'catching up to do'," Dr. Palmer said.

Most of the 1960 nuisance complaints concerned sewage and it was pointed out that in closely built areas, such as allotments, developments and suburban communities, the solution lies in the establishment of county sewer districts.

The goal for 1961 is at least two sewer districts being established by county commissioners. There were a total of 457 septic tank permits issued the past year.

Other statistics show that 11 trailer park inspections were made. Eight nursing homes were licensed and 12 inspections completed.

In the school health category, there were 155 school visits by the one health nurse, Dr. Palmer visited schools 123 times, held 143 clinics, gave 622 physicals, 1,954 shots, 1,504 polio shots and 465 mantoux TB tests and examined 99 school bus drivers.

2 Drivers Fined $15

LISBON — Two motorists were fined a total of $15 and costs Saturday by County Judge James L. MacDonald. Paul E. Jarvis, 24, of Lisbon was fined $10 and costs for operating a car without a muffler. Howard J. Milhoan, 56, of Mingo Junction paid $5 and costs for failing to obey a stop sign.

Annual Dinner Held For Cubs

Some 148 attended the annual Blue and Gold dinner held Friday night at Westgate School by Cub Scout Pack 43.

Highlight was the presentation of Webelos badges, the highest award in cubbing, to Harry Brokaw and Bill Chesnut. The boys in turn presented miniature badges to their mothers.

Brokaw then was inducted into Boy Scout Troop 12 by Bernard Locke, scoutmaster, and Bill Chesnut was inducted into Troop 43 by Donald Wolf, scoutmaster.

Others receiving awards were David Ulbright, gold arrow under wolf; Ricky Dotson, silver arrow under wolf; Chesnut and Joe King, gold arrow under lion; Ray Shattenberger, one-year pin; James Brown, Dan Shroades and Ricky Wolfe, denner stripes, and Bobby Burrows, assistant denner stripe.

The Rev. Robert Tanguy of the Glenmoor United Presbyterian Church gave the invocation. Walter Silliman, chairman, introduced the guests and thanked those who aided in arranging the dinner.

Guests included Rev. and Mrs. Tanguy; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gray, district scout executive; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rossi, district vice chairman; and Mr. and Mrs. David Fugate, neighborhood commissioner.

The den chiefs and cubs led the pledge to the flag. The parents provided the entertainment. Richard Mattern sang two selections, accompanied by his wife on the piano, and the Donald Schussler family sang two songs. The den mothers and committeemen had a "kitchen band."

Gray was guest speaker. A committee meeting will be held Saturday at the home of Mrs. Robert Charlton of Rock Camp. The pack will hold a skating party April 4 at the Kay-Bee Arena.

3 To Attend Session

LISBON — Herman Reuter, work unit conservationist, and Earl Cope of New Waterford and Carl Miller of Leetonia, conservation aides, will attend the Northeast Ohio Farm Contractors' Conference at King's Restaurant in Warren Friday. It will concern building small watersheds and pounds in conservation work and how contractors may help.
